Aerospace Strike May End Soon

T-H Is Invoked, JFK Asks Report

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—President Kennedy's swift recourse to the Taft-Hartley Act raises the probability that the strike against Lockheed Aircraft Corp. will be halted soon — perhaps within a week.

In the meantime, says the union, work on the vital missile and plane projects has been halted. But the firm says work is continuing.

Only hours after the International Association of Machinists struck the giant aerospace firm Wednesday, the President invoked the labor act, saying the strike would "imperil the national health and safety" if permitted to continue.

Names 3-Man Board

Kennedy appointed a three-man board to look into the dispute and report to him no later than Monday.

On the basis of that report, the President will decide whether to ask federal court for a Taft-Hartley injunction, which would suspend the strike for 80 days. New efforts to reach agreement could be made during this "cooling-off" period.

News files indicate a presidential request for such an injunction has never been denied.

The chairman of the President's three-man board is Prof. Arthur M. Ross, director of the University of California Institute of Industrial Relations. He announced shortly after his appointment the board will meet in Los Angeles Friday with Lockheed and union representatives.

Vote Is Unresolved Issue

The principal unresolved issue is whether Lockheed employes in California, Florida and Hawaii will be permitted to vote on a union shop proposal. Under a union shop, all eligible workers have to join the union to keep their jobs.

A special board appointed by the President earlier this year recommended that union shop elections be conducted at aerospace firms. But Lockheed refused to allow such an election, saying it was unalterably opposed

Speed and Weight Limits Go Into Effect on Friday

Ordinances recently adopted by the Common Council fixing weight limit and speed on the Washington Avenue viaduct are to be officially effective as of Friday.

One fixes a three-ton weight limit and the other a speed of 10 miles an hour. The same regulations affect travel on the temporary bridge over the Esopus Creek bridge on the west end of the viaduct.

Executions Are Fewer in State, Records Reveal

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A state commission sought answers today to the touchy question of capital punishment, as New York quietly compiled a record for inactivity at the death house.

Testimony on whether the state should do away with the death penalty was invited at a public hearing of the Temporary Commission on Revision of the Penal Law and Criminal Code.

At the same time, records of the State Correction Department showed there had not been an execution in the state since June 8, 1961—an interval of a year, five months and 21 days—the longest period without an execution in state history.

Reasons Cited

Although many have been sentenced to die in the Sing Sing Prison electric chair during this time, a combination of court appeals and executive clemency has stayed the executioner's hand.

The longest previous period without an execution was from Sept. 12, 1905, to Feb. 25, 1907—a year, five months and 13 days. The record was broken last week, and every day that passes adds to it.

There are now 18 men in the Sing Sing death house, but none has a definite date for execution. They await the outcome of appeals for new trials or for clemency from the governor.

Has 23 Hearings

During his first term, Gov. Rockefeller has held 23 clemency hearings. He commuted the death sentences of six who appealled to him. Ten were executed and seven cases are still pending.

Today's hearing was the first in a series planned by the commission, a unit set up by the Legislature last year to modernize the state's criminal laws. A second will be held in New York City Dec. 7 and the last in Rochester Dec. 14.

Other Studies

Two other controversial subjects under study by the commission will be taken up at another all-day public session here Friday—insanity as a defense in criminal trials, and whether grand juries should be allowed to make reports without indicting anyone.

The question of capital punishment has been plaguing the Legislature for decades, especially in recent years as foes of the death penalty have presssed their case with increasing vigor.

Officially, the commisssion's job is to recommend whether capital punishment should be abolished, retained, limited or extended. There is little likelihood, however, that the death penalty would be extended.

Urgency Is Stressed For City

No Federal, State Aid Is Available

Reconsideration of a $1,335,000 water system improvement program is due to be asked of the Common Council at its Dec. 4 meeting as the result of a special water board meeting Wednesday night when urgency of the program was re-emphasized in a discussion with members of the council's finance committee.

A Nov. 7 poll of aldermen failed to gain the two-thirds vote required for bond measures. Five Republican aldermen and William G. Davis (D-L) 13th Ward, voted against approving the sum. Francis R. Koenig (D) Ninth Ward, was absent. Alderman-at-Large Harold L. Kaye voted with the majority members for a committee report on the proposal, and his action permitted a vote on the bond measure.

Three Attend Meeting

Kaye, with Majority Leader Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, and Clark W. Myers (R) Second Ward, attended last night's meeting. The latter two are members of the council's finance committee.

Council Minority Leader Joseph F. Carroll Jr. (R) 11th Ward, today said the bid for reconsideration of the bond issue probably would be discussed in caucus tonight by minority aldermen who are due to meet in regular session prior to the next regular council meeting.

Says Rates to Remain Same

The water board, in reemphasizing the urgency of the program, stressed that no increase in water rates is anticipated in "the next few years" unless required by an unforeseen emergency.

The board also emphasized the danger faced by the city in the drought of this year and that in 1957, and apparently in answer to a point made at the Nov. 7 Common Council meeting, said inquiries have revealed that there are no prospects of obtaining state or federal aid for the improvement program.

Full Explanation

Other points made by the board in response to questions:

1) The proposed improvements to the water system are critically important. This has been stressed by the board's consulting engineers many times in the past few years.

2) The droughts of 1957 and 1962 have pointed up the critical and immediate need for enlargement of storage at Cooper Lake Reservoir. Only providentially was the city spared the need to buy water from New York City or to use water from an inferior source such as the Esopus Creek.

Point Out About Delay

3) Any postponement in approval of the bond issue will delay starting the work at the reservoir until 1964, since construction must start in the early

Mikoyan Still Silent on Cuba

Kennedy After Clearer Policy Picture Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy wants to get first-hand facts from Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan today on whether Premier Khrushchev now wishes to move beyond the Cuban crisis and ease U.S.-Soviet tensions on other issues.

The President is unlikely to get a clear response to his probing, officials said, but he may obtain a better personal impression of the future course of Soviet policy.

Kennedy is scheduled to confer with Mikoyan late today. Mikoyan, who has completed weeks of talks with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, was due to arrive here from New York shortly before noon.

The Soviet trouble-shooter intends to remain until Friday. Thus he may return to the White House for another conference if progress is made in his meeting with Kennedy today.

Mikoyan will also confer with other administration officials. Secretary of State Dean Rusk has invited him to lunch Friday and Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall will be host at a dinner tonight at Udall's home. Mikoyan was one of Udall's hosts last summer when the secretary toured the Soviet Union.

To Stress Safeguards

The President was expected to emphasize to Mikoyan that the United States will either get international safeguards for the removal of Soviet nuclear weapons from Cuba or it will continue its surveillance indefinitely.

He was also expected to stress heavily that his no-invasion pledge does not mean U.S. acceptance of or protection for the Castro regime. It means, officials said, that the United States does not choose to try to destroy Castro by military means but will use such means if necessary in response to any Cuban aggression.

Mission Still Mystery

Khrushchev sent Mikoyan to Havana Nov. 3. He came back to New York last Monday, having spent a little more than three weeks on a mission he never explained to U.S. officials and about which they are still mystified. If he was trying to get Castro to accept international inspection in Cuban territory, he failed.

While he was there, however, the Soviet government did remove

Contractors Are Cautioned About Gifts for Workers

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The intent of Christmas gifts from highway contractors to public work employes "may be subject to serious misunderstanding," the State Public Works Superintendent says.

Supt. J. Burch McMorran told contractors Wednesday night they had no obligation to offer gifts "large or small" to employes of his department. He said he had told the employes that such gifts "must be refused or returned."

Speaking at a meeting of the New York State Chapter, Associated General Contractors of America, McMorran said:

Called Injustice

"Those who insist on presenting gifts to department employes will ...do an injustice both to themselves and the recipients."

The superintendent pledged an all-out campaign to make sure the

Carlino Notes Measures For Rough Going in 1963

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Look for the 1963 Legislature to turn thumbs down on proposals for non-property school taxes, an increase in the state's minimum legal drinking age and off-track betting on horse races.

Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino, who has a major voice in actions of the Republican-controlled Legislature, indicated Wednesday that such measures faced rough going when the Legislature convened Jan. 9.

The key legislative decisions are made primarily by Gov. Rockefeller, Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney and Carlino.

Rockefeller scheduled a trip to Albany today from New York City, his first since winning reelection Nov. 6. He will discuss the coming session with legislative leaders at the Executive Mansion Friday.

Carlino told a news conference Wednesday that proposals to authorize school districts to join on a county-wide basis and levy sales or other non-property taxes would have little hope of passage "until there is a grassroots demand from the school districts themselves for a broader tax base."

No such demand has materialized, the speaker said, and the Legislature will not authorize any new taxes, even on a permissive basis, without strong popular support.

On the question of raising the minimum legal drinking age from 18 to 21, Carlino said he had seen indications that the position of those who favored the increase was weakening.

Raising the limit, he said, "might create more problems than it solves."

Carlino said the GOP majority in the Legislature should not change its longstanding opposition to New York City's request for authority to legalize and tax off-track betting to alleviate an increasingly pressing fiscal problem.

He called such a course "about one of the worst...the city could take."

The Legislature will consider requests from the city for other taxing powers, Carlino said.

Among the bills filed Wednes-

To Continue 209 Bypass Work if Weather Permits

Work on the Route 209 bypass west of the city is to continue as long as weather permits, a state engineer said today.

Contractor John Arborio, Inc., of Poughkeepsie, suspended work on the project during the week of the Thanksgiving holiday but such crews of workmen as were needed returned this week.

A main phase of the project along the rebuilt section of Route 28 near the Thruway interchange pattern, still unfinished, is the bridge bringing Route 28 over the bypass, and work progressed on that this week. It is hoped to have it in use this week.

Sections of newly laid concrete on rebuilt strips of both Route 28 and 9W have been in use for

Lauds Firemen, Chief for Work At Mill Blaze

Kingston Fire Department and Chief James M. Brett were commended this week for the "efficient manner" in which they handled a fire on November 15 at Kingston Knitting Mills, Cornell Street.

The letter addressed to Chief Brett and dated November 27 was signed by Richard H. Pauker, president of Barclay Knitwear Co., Inc., 1239 Broadway, New York City.

Cites Sprinklers

According to the fire department report the blaze originated in a shed at the Cornell Street mill which set off sprinkler heads inside the main building. At the time Chief Brett reemphasized the importance of sprinkler systems and pointed out that the factory remained in operation and its employes were kept on the job.

The fire of unknown origin apparently started in cardboard cartons in the shed. Heat broke through a window glass on the ground floor and set off the sprinklers. Some smoke and water damage resulted, the fire report said. Chief Brett and Deputy Julius Buchholtz were in charge of men and equipment at the scene.

Letter of Praise

The letter of commendation follows:

"Dear Chief Brett:

"I would like to take this opportunty of congratulating you and your men for the efficient manner in which the fire at our Kingston mill was handled. I would personally like to extend my thanks, not only for the putting out of the fire in such an expeditious manner but also for the courtesy and concern that you and your men extended in terms of our people and toward the actual merchandise etc., that was in the damaged area.

"The way in which you had your men clean up the area drenched by the sprinklers was something that I think is unique in a fire department's operations and is something for which your men are to be commended.

"In closing let me say that it was a pleasure meeting you, even under these trying circumstances, and after having seen you and your men in operation I feel even more confident about the safety of both our mill and all the homes in the greater Kingston area which fall under your jurisdiction."

Would Retire in 1966

U.S., Reds in Accord On Thant Keeping Job

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union and the United States were reported agreed today that U Thant of Burma should be kept as U.N. secretary-general until late in 1966.

Diplomatic sources said the Security Council would meet Friday to recommend Thant's election, and the General Assembly would meet later in the day to elect him.

Thant will be elected for a full five-year term, but in accordance with his stipulation the term will date from the day he took office as acting secretary-general, Nov. 3, 1961. Thant reportedly wants to retire in 1966—when he will be 57—for personal reasons.

Thant, formerly Burma's chief U.N. delegate, was elected last November to be acting secretary-general until April 10, 1963, the date of the expiration of the second five-year term of the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold of Sweden. Hammarskjold had been killed the previous Sept. 17 in a plane crash near Ndola, Northern Rhodesia.

The diplomatic sources said the Burmese diplomat wants to uphold the statutory title of secretary-general and the statutory principle of a five-year term but does not want to serve another five years in the office.

The informants said Soviet-U.S. agreement to Thant's election was reached Wednesday at a meeting of American and Soviet negotiators on the Cuban crisis. They said the Soviets had held up their consent previously in the hope of first getting an agreement to settle that crisis.

The meeting was held at Soviet delegation headquarters. Attend-

Monday Is Start Of Motor Vehicle License Tab Sale

Motor vehicle licenses for 1963 will go on sale Monday morning, Dec. 3 at the Motor Vehicle bureau offices at 32 Main Street, and car owners are urged to renew their car registrations early.

Ralph E. Post, deputy county clerk in charge of the bureau, estimated that 35,000 to 40,000 renewal applications had been mailed to car owners in the county. Owners of cars subject to inspection must have valid inspection stickers.

A date tab will be issued for 1963, and must be attached to the rear registration plate, but not before Jan. 1. Car owners were urged by Deputy Clerk Post not to fail to answer all questions on the renewal applications and sign the application in four places on the face of the blank.

Post said car owners do not

State Is Facing Severe Pollution Period: Warning

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York State could be in for some severe smog during the next few days.

Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, state health commissioner and chairman of the State Air Pollution Control Board, warned yesterday that current weather conditions made air pollution potentially more dangerous.

He urged residents to put off burning leaves and trash and said industry should postpone air-polluting operations for a few days.

Hilleboe explained that a coastal storm along the southeastern states had created an unusually high pressure area that had clamped a lid of air over most parts of the state. The condition might continue until Saturday.

During this period, he continued, air pollution should be kept to a minimum to help prevent respiratory illnesses and discomfort. The stable air mass could create severe smog conditions in urban areas, as air pollutents are held close to the ground, Hilleboe said.

"All forms of open burning should be curtailed immediately," the commissioner advised. "Leaf and trash fires, burning dumps and other kinds of unnecessary air-contaminating activities should be postponed until the present weather condition passes.

Asks Area Cooperation

Commenting on Dr. Hilleboe's request to the public to curtail trash and other burning until the smog conditions clear, Harry F. Edinger, Ulster County Health Department director of environmental sanitation asked

No Meeting Set, College Expenses Send Budget Up

No date has been set for the next meeting of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors which is in recess, subject to the call of the chair. Budget Officer Robert A. Snyder is working on the 1963 budget and the next meeting probably will not be called until the tentative budget is ready for a public hearing. A date for the public hearing is expected to be decided at the next meeting of the board.

Asked Wednesday as to the probably amount of the 1963 county budget, Budget Officer Snyder said at this stage of preparation he had "no idea" as to the ultimate figure other than it would be a lot higher than the 1962 budget.

One of the factors in the increased cost will be the amount allocated for the Community College. This will be an entirely new item in the budget. In previous years the only college item in the budget was the county's share of tuition for students attending community colleges from Ulster County.

A tentative request for funds for 1963 was submitted to the Budget Committee by the college trustees on Tuesday night and is now under study by the committee, Snyder stated.

Churchill to Have Quiet 88th Birthday on Friday

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill will celebrate his 88th birthday Friday probably more quietly than any anniversary of his long public life.

As his years upon this earth have lengthened, each birthday anniversary has generated a swelling flood of presents and greetings from well-wishers all over the world.

Thousands come in from people he doesn't know—people who've never seen him but who look on him as the living image of an incomparable fighter.

Over the last 10 years—by special messsengers, squads of telegraph boys and postoffice trucks—presents and greetings have poured into his London home.

Friday is expected to bring another avalanche of greetings but Churchill plans a quiet day.

"He will see only his family and very close friends," said his private secretary, Anthony Montague Browne.

Asked if Sir Winston would make his traditional birthday visit to the House of Commons, Browne replied:

"No, I'm afraid not."

Sir Winston is very feeble.

He is far from senile, but he walks with considerable effort, is deaf and has good days and bad days.

On a bad day, his mind often isn't clear.

On good days, it's splendidly lucid.

One of his close friends—a former military man—visited him recently and later confided to friends:

"It's all very sad. He could remember almost everything about World War I but very little about

Glancing Over TV

Audience Seems To Like Watching Contest Programs

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Mark Goodson of the packaging firm of Goodson and Todman, is firmly dedicated to the proposition that most people watch television to be entertained.

It is a premise which the firm has found to be financially rewarding. Goodson - Todman game shows, all seven of them, currently occupy a record 16½ hours each week on two networks and have built what the trade newspaper, "Variety," estimates as a $25,000,000 operation.

At the moment, the shows are "I've Got a Secret," "What's My Line," "To Tell the Truth" and "Password" on CBS and "The Price Is Right," "Play Your Hunch" and "Say When" on NBC. On Dec. 31, still another audience participation show will be unveiled on NBC when "Match Game" has its premiere.

Does the public really have an insatiable appetite for watching other people play games or win prizes?

"Well, people seem to like 'What's My Line?' and 'I've Got a Secret' and 'The Price Is Right' year after year," said Mark Goodson. "And the game and panel shows have proved to be popular with the day-time audiences too.

"Match Game" involves two teams of three persons each (one a celebrity, of course) who match up words for points. Even Goodson, who presided over its creation admits it is almost impossible to explain.

"'But you can play it in your own living room," he added. "And it can be a pretty interesting gambling game as well as being as easy or sophisticated as you want to make it."

CBS' "Fair Exchange," as expected, will get the axe just before Christmas. The cancellation means a rejuggling of Thursday and Friday night CBS shows. "The Alfred Hitchcock Hour" moves back a day into the "Fair Exchange" spot, while "The Nurses" will be shoved back to Thursday evenings 10-11 p.m. hour, finally out of competition with NBC's "Dr. Kildare." An hour-long version of "Twilight Zone" will take its place.

Meanwhile, "Fair Exchange" will be given another chance — provided it can find a way to shrink to half-hour size. CBS says it made a firm offer to pick up the show again in a shorter form.

Recommended tonight: "Bob Hope Show," NBC, 8:30-9:30 (Eastern Standard Time)—Jack Benny, Ethel Merman and Bobby Darin are guest-stars.

Along Capitol Corridors

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A tangled maze of figures, contrived confusion and official apathy combine to protect political spending in New York State from close and easy scrutiny.

Vast sums of money are required to keep modern political machinery operating.

But those who raise the funds—and many who give them — remain extremely sensitive about the process.

Hodge-Podge of Numbers

Most office-seekers comply with requirements that they and committees aiding them file reports of campaign receipts and expenditures.

The result, however, is a hodge-podge of numbers. The system appears designed to make it as difficult as possible to arrive at any realistic picture of how state political campaigns are financed and how much is actually spent.

A contributor wishing to minimize the amount of his gift to his party may spread it among several committees or break it up into a series of payments. This is done frequently.

In the same fashion, expenditures on behalf of a candidate may be made through several committees.

The picture is further complicated by the device of having the many, separate commmittees receive gifts from each other.

Take this fall's campaign:

The Republican State Committee, the United Republican Campaign Committee, the Upstate Republican Campaign Committee, the Citizens Committee for Rockefeller and Javits, the Independent Citizens for Javits and Friends of Rockefeller and Wilson, were only a few of the GOP organizations raising and spending money and, in many cases, passing it among themselves.

Similar With Demos

A similar situation prevailed among the Democrats.

The Republican State Committee was the chief vehicle for spending GOP campaign funds. But the Citizens Committee for Morgenthau and Burns was the main avenue for Democratic finances.

Thus, comparisons of the GOP and Democratic state committee spending totals would be meaningless. So would comparison of the so-called Citizens Committees for the respective slates.

The problems involved in tracking down political spending are demonstrated through several committees involving Richard S. Aldrich, a cousin of the governor and unsuccessful GOP candidate for congress in the 19th district in Manhattan.

Contributors to The Committee for Richard S. Aldrich and Nelson A. Rockefeller included the governor, who gave $3,000, and other Rockefellers, who gave $8,000 additional.

The sum of $3,000 was contributed by a commmittee called Friends of Richard S. Aldrich and Jacob K. Javits and another $3,000 by the Citizens Committee to Elect Richard S. Aldrich and (State Sen.) MacNeil Mitchell.

The Professional Men's Committee for Richard S. Aldrich and (Atty Gen.) Louis J. Lefkowitz gave $2,000.

Gov. Rockefeller contributed another $3,000 to the committee for Aldrich and Lefkowitz. That committee gave $2,000 to the Aldrich-Rockefeller committee and $2,765 to the Aldrich-Javits committee.

The Aldrich-Mitchell committee received contributions of $3,000 from the governor and $2,500 from the Aldrich-Javits committee. It gave $3,000 to the Aldrich-Rockefeller committee and $2,500 to the Aldrich-Javits committee.

Thus, a good deal of money was put into circulation but did not show up in the main campaign reports. The transactions were proper under state election law.

Contagious, Difficult to Detect

Tuberculosis Continues As Major Health Hazard

Tuberculosis continues to be a major health hazard despite the development of effective anti-TB drugs because the disease is both highly contagious and difficult to detect, the Medical Society of the County of Ulster warned today.

The local physician's group described the disease as "insidious" because while the symptoms experienced by an active TB case are unspectacular and slowly progressive, the unsuspecting victim is a walking carrier of the infection.

The first symptoms merely are a feeling of weakness or tiredness, accompanied by a gradual loss of appetite, a slow loss of weight, and a persistent cough. The patient may also experience a slight afternoon fever, and may perspire while sleeping. However, these symptoms are so minor that many people might tend to disregard them.

Threat to Public

Yet, within a short period of time, the doctors said, the patient is coughing up germs, and has become a hidden public health hazard, as well as a threat to his own family.

Eventually, if untreated, the disease progresses to the point where the symptoms must be noticed, for the cough produces greater amounts of mucous, sometimes traced with blood, the weakness becomes extreme, the weight loss dramatic, and the fever a daily occurrence.

But, by the time that the disease is so obvious, countless people have been exposed to the infection. This is why, the area physician explained, it is so important to take advantage of the yearly free Mobil X-ray Unit service provided by the Ulster County TB and Health Association, or to go for an annual X-ray at the clinic of the Ulster County TB Hospital.

More Effective Treatment

Today, the treatment of TB is far more effective and less time consuming than it was in years past. However, it still requires hospitalization for four to six months, and if the victim is the family breadwinner, the loss of income during this period is a financial hardship that most families cannot afford.

It is because of the high incidence of TB in Ulster County (second highest in the state), the extended period of hospitalization, and the financial demands on most families, that Ulster County maintains a special TB hospital.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Doing business today—or making a living—or planning for your or your children's future—increasingly involves you with your governments at their various levels.

On every corporation's and individual's calendar are three question marks: taxes, government spending, and the offspring of the two, Treasury deficits and borrowing.

Balmy Days or Storms

In today's changing climate for management, labor and consumers, what the federal government does about these three might mean balmy days, or storms.

The complicated federal tax system determines much more of business thinking and planning than it did a generation back. The system affects many a firm's performance, as shown both in the profit and loss sheet and in the price curve of its shares on the stock market.

Rising state and local taxes also play a big role in business decisions and balance sheets. Often they determine where new plants are built, sometimes where old ones can hang on. Taxes influence the well-being of employes and their attitude to their present jobs and location.

The change that 1962 has pointed up in business prospects and in economic growth bolsters the plan to revise the old federal tax system. The administration says it will ask Congress to lower rates on both corporate and individual income levies, and to reform the system in general. This includes closing loopholes dear to the hearts of some industries, business executives and individuals.

Thus today, as business tries to adjust to new conditions governing profits, pricing and labor relations, it wonders what tax changes Congress may finally make, and their timing.

Doubt Cuts Enough

Some observers doubt that tax cuts in themselves will spur as much of an increase in consumer spending for goods, or business spending for new equipment, as the administration hopes. But most of those heard from say it will have a big, and perhaps deciding, effect in getting the economy moving faster next year.

Government spending plans are just as much on industry's mind as it adjusts to today's conditions. The power of the federal dollar, especially as reflected in the stock market, is shown by awarding a development contract for a radically new jet fighter to General Dynamics and Grumman Aircraft. Changed overnight were the prospects for more jobs, as well as more profits.

Government spending pumps money into the economy; government taxation takes money out of it. Next year the plan is to take less money out by cutting tax rates and to pump more money in by increasing spending. The theory, at least, is that the two actions will give the economy a big nudge.

It also may give the Treasury a big deficit. And the debate over what that may mean to prices, wages, profits, savings and interest rates is setting businessman against businessman, just as it is economit against economist.

PEACE CORPS AT HOME

The President has set a blue-ribbon panel to work at studying whether it would be a good idea to create a domestic Peace Corps. If the panel's answer is in the negative, it will be running strongly counter to public opinion. Six out of 10 Americans questioned in a national poll approved of the idea.

The public's judgment in this matter is sound. A domestic Peace Corps would be valuable in two ways. It could be used where help is urgently needed in mental hospitals, to combat juvenile delinquency in city slums, among migrant workers, in correctional institutions, on Indian reservations, and so forth. At the same time, it would provide a useful outlet for the great reservoir of desire to do something for this country and humanity.

The depth of this reservoir has already been disclosed by applications for service in the Peace Corps now working abroad. Many thousands of young people, and not a few no longer young, have shown not only willingness but eagerness to give two years of their lives for the benefit of society.

There is no reason why this same reservoir cannot be tapped for use in the United States. Nor is there any doubt that areas of need exist. Lack of trained manpower curtails work of social importance in many fields. The Peace Corps would be a welcome addition to the army of those who seek to improve society.

NO HIDING PLACE

There is something to think about in a recent news story concerning a U.S. physicist who plans to move to New Zealand with his wife and child. The reason given for this action is that he believes there will be less danger from radioactive fallout in New Zealand than in this country.

That probably is true. The prevailing winds tend to concentrate fallout more heavily in other parts of the world, notably including the United States. But little can be said for the idea that one can escape involvement in the world dilemma by fleeing to an area of relatively low fallout. That may reduce the slight danger from test bomb fallout, but in the event of war every place on the globe would be affected sooner or later. Flight is not escape; flight is merely postponement.

The physicist who is going to New Zealand appears to recognize this. He has been quoted as noting that "the problems of the rest of the world should hit there last." Maybe so, but running to New Zealand or anywhere else does nothing to solve those problems.

Men of intelligence and good will have an obligation to do all they can to bring about a solution to the nuclear dilemma. In our kind of world, there is no escape from this obligation. There is, quite literally, no hiding place on earth.

WORLD DISEASE BATTLE

One little item in the news is like a sudden flash of light to illuminate the need for continuing and expanding the work of specialized United Nations agencies. A number of these agencies, without regard to the political backing and filling that dominates news of the General Assembly, perform functions of great importance.

One of the best and most vital of these agencies is the World Health Organization. It is the province of this agency that is involved in the news item mentioned above.

The news is simply that, despite increased World Health Organization efforts to control plague, smallpox and cholera, the worldwide incidence of these diseases increased in 1961. This is one more illustration of the truth found in "Alice in Wonderland"—that we must run fast merely to stand still.

Thoughtless Americans may be inclined to shrug this off, assuming that world disease statistics have little bearing on this country. That is not true. Disease is no respecter of political or geographical boundaries. Infection from other countries becomes easier as international air travel becomes more commonplace. To humane consideration add self interest as a reason for wanting to curb disease everywhere. The World Health Organization is our best tool for doing this.

CLEANING HOUSE

The important matter in Earl E. T. Smith's book, "The Fourth Floor" is that the State Department and the CIA require structural as well as personnel purification. The fact that two men, Roy Rubottom and William Wieland, down-the-line, could determine the policy of the United States concerning Cuba, without consulting or having the consent of the President of the United States or the Secretary of State, establishes beyond doubt that similar steps may, day by day, be taken by other secondary officials.

Smith says in his book:

"From my experience in Cuba I have concluded that this need not have happened. That it did happen was, to a surprising degree, due to the policy of many in critical positions in the State Department that a Leftist dictator was better than a Rightist dictator, even though the Rightist dictator may be friendly to the United States and the Leftist dictator our enemy. The test with them is not what is beneficial to the United States but what fits their doctrinaire views of the future world."

Then he makes this telling point:

"I have shown in this book that it was impossible for Assistant Secretary of State Roy Rubottom, his associate, William Wieland, and the Fourth Floor not to be aware of Fidel Castro's Communist affiliations. It is beyond possibility that the CIA did not know. Roy Rubottom was in Bogota when Fidel Castro, at the age of twenty-two, was an active organizer of Communist insurrection.

"But I am sure that the Secretary of State and the Under-Secretary of State, and the President were not adequately and correctly informed on this subject, until it was too late. It is essential to understand this because the Cuban situation may have to run its course. it ought not to be possible for the top officials of the United States be kept in the dark on a matter of policy."

This is something too serious to let pass. Senator Smathers of Florida, who has had a slow burn about these men in the State Department—and the CIA should be included—introduced a bill to bring about a correction. His bill provides that all officers and employees of the State Department whose basic rate of compensation is in excess of $8,000, irrespective of the Veterans Preference Act, Foreign Service Act and the Civil Service Classification Act, should hold office at the pleasure of the Secretary of State. In other words, they can be fired.

It is a good start. It would be better if the Secretary of State could fire any employee who takes it upon himself to set up a private policy and pursue it without the knowledge of the Secretary of State.

Ambassador Smith says:

"To make my point clear, let me say that we helped to overthrow the Batista dictatorship, which was pro-American and anti-Communist, only to install the Castro dictatorship which was Communist and anti-American."

What is this Fourth Floor? Smith describes them:

"The Fourth Floor consists of desk-men, as they are called. They are career Foreign Service Officers who frequently look upon political appointees as here today and gone tomorrow . . .

". . . The Secretary of State was peoccupied with Peking, Moscow, and Berlin. Policy decisions on Cuban affairs were determined on the Fourth Floor of the State Department, where influential persons believed in the revolution and hoped for its success. So far as I know, no definite policy governing our attitude to the friendly government of Cuba was set on the fifth floor (the top echelon of the State Department)."

This is the gist of the experience of an Ambassador. Four other Ambassadors reported regarding Castro and they got nowhere. Who in the State Department was permitted by order or by Executive instruction to keep from higher officials, including the President of the United States, such information? Nevertheless, there is ample evidence that there was knowledge in the State Department that Fidel Castro—not his brother or any of his friends but he, himself—was engaged in Communist activities in Bogota, Colombia, as early as 1948.

Ambassador Smith's book, "The Fourth Floor" is so packed full of direct and first hand facts that it becomes clear to the reader why the past month of horror occurred in the Caribbean.

Vaccine Against Encephalitis Is Not for General Use

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

I get so many interesting questions I can't possibly answer them all, as much as I would like to. A hint: The shorter the letter, the more likely it is to be answered soon. Please put questions on only one subject in your letter. If several people write asking for information on the same subject I will try to cover the subject in a full-length column.

Q—In view of a recent outbreak of encephalitis in Florida, I was wondering what measures can be taken to keep from getting it.

A—Although there is a vaccine against the type of encephalitis or brain fever recently seen in Florida, it is not recommended for general use but only for use in persons with a greater than average risk of exposure. This is because of the danger of rather severe reactions. For this reason control of infection is a matter for the local health department wherever an outbreak occurs. The only thing you as an individual can do is to avoid exposure to mosquitoes during the hours they are known to bite each day, if there is an outbreak in your town. You could also sleep under a mosquito net.

Q—Is there a drug that can be taken safely to lessen the craving for alcohol?

A—The drug, disulfiram or Antabuse, can be taken in small amounts daily. Of itself it has no harmful effects on the body even when taken over a long period. If a person who has taken this drug regularly for three weeks drinks even a small amount of alcohol he will have a severely unpleasant reaction which is characterized by flushing, rapid heart action with palpitation, shortness of breath, gasping, nausea, vomiting, and even loss of consciousness, depending on the amount of alcohol taken.

Because of the severity of the reaction, an alcoholic should never be given the drug without his knowledge and consent. Once he has started taking it he should take one small trial drink so that he will know what to expect. This should be done only under the supervision of a physician.

This drug is not a cure for alcoholism but in a person who recognizes that he is a problem drinker and who sincerely wants to overcome the habit, it may help to tide him over a difficult period of readjustment. Great harm can be done by slipping the drug into the food of an alcoholic without his knowledge and any person who is taking it must be warned not to take any cough syrup or other medication that contains alcohol.

Persons with diabetes, goiter, epilepsy, insanity, cirrhosis of the liver, or kidney disease are not fit subjects for treatment with this powerful drug.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Postmortems on Cuba are a dime a dozen in Washington now. Some of the details like the text of Russian Chairman Nikita Khrushchev's letter of Oct. 26 to President Kennedy may not be made public for another 20 years or so unless the Russians choose to give it out. This isn't considered likely.

Kennedy's letter of Oct. 27 replied to this letter. But before Khrushchev got it, he made his broadcast of Oct. 27. This changed the situation. Kennedy's letter of Oct. 28, was therefore a reply to the broadcast.

That night Khrushchev broadcast his capitulation to remove the Cuban missiles. The important point in these exchanges was that both sides were moving on an hour-to-hour basis. The weekend of Oct. 27-28 was the period of greatest danger, climaxed by the President's broadcast to the nation.

There were many imperfections in these exchanges. There was not time for careful negotiations. One trouble was that for the first few days after discovery of the missiles in Cuba, the case was handled by the President and about a dozen top White House, State Department and Pentagon officials. This was to protect security and prevent news leaks before policy was determined.

In this process questions such as what to do about the IL-28 bombers and whether the President made a definite promise not to invade Cuba were not handled clearly. As soon as planning staffs were cut in on the operation, these defects were discovered and remedial actions were taken to tighten up loose ends.

ON THE NO-INVASION PROMISE, it is now pointed out that the U. S. cannot give any assurances that modify security requirements of the Western Hemisphere, based on the Rio pact. Also, the U. S. cannot create a Castro sanctuary.

It is said to be up to the Organization of American States to make policy on whether Castro must be forcibly removed from power in Cuba. But the U. S. cannot settle for any Communist country in this hemisphere.

The matter of the IL-28 bombers was not raised at first because it was not considered advisable to complicate the removal of the missiles.

The U. S. knows that 42 missiles were removed from Cuba. It is not known if others were left and no missile cones were detected. Whether this means that no nuclear warheads were sent to Cuba is unclear. Construction of a storage bunker was detected.

It is freely admitted that if Khrushchev had been able to get away with his missile bases on Cuba, it would have been a masterful strategic move. Otherwise, just why he embarked on this adventure early last summer is still a Kremlin secret.

ONE ASSUMPTION GIVEN wide creditiblity is that this move tied in with Khrushchev's announced decision to postpone a showdown on Berlin until after the U. S. elections.

If the United States had not thwarted installation, the missiles would have been operational about the end of November. Khrushchev could then have backed up his demands on Berlin with the threat of missile strikes from Cuba. There were two possible targets. One was the United States, the other Latin-America.

It is possible that withdrawal of the missiles from Cuba was part of the original plan if its execution met with opposition, but the degree of opposition from the United States, Latin America, Europe and even the Afro-Asian bloc probably was not foreseen.

In any event, Khrushchev recognized he had made a misjudgment in sending missiles and offensive weapons to Cuba. This time he was able to adjust on his miscalculation safely.

The important point now is to make sure that Khrushchev does not make a similar misjudgment in the future, when he might not have time to stop whatever he starts before it is too late. That might lead to a world war by accident.

Major and Minor Pieces In K's Global Chess Game

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Sooner or later, Nikita Khrushchev's tactics in his global chess game will be revealed. What he gave up in Cuba may prove to have been an unimportant pawn. What he wants now is the bigger pieces—a checkmate or victory through the dismantling of the offensive bases built up by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on the Western perimeter of the Communist-bloc states.

The Soviet Premier may have contrived the whole scheme of placing "offensive" missile bases in Cuba with the sole purpose of giving them up voluntarily, so as to be able to demand the withdrawal by the Western powers of all their "offensive" missile bases in Europe and the Middle East.

For the big unanswered question of the year is this: why did the Soviet Union send its 40 intermediate missiles and short-range bombers to Cuba in the first place?

If it be assumed that the Soviets planned a nuclear attack on this country, then some species of insanity must have suddenly swept the Kremlin. For the Moscow government all along has known that the United States has retalitory power so massive that the people of the Soviet Union could be instantly destroyed.

The theory that any "first strike" by the Soviets would be decisive has long been established as fallacious by military experts. The mere addition of a few bases in Cuba doesn't alter the concept or give Russia any over all military advantage against the United States or the West. Polaris-missile submarines and American missiles on land bases overseas could still inflict such damage against the Soviet Union that nobody in the Kremlin would ever seriously direct a missile attack from Cuba against the United States as a "first strike." The fact is that there is a nuclear stalemate in the world today.

This, however, doesn't mean the Soviets will slow down their efforts to gain a military advantage wherever they can.

The first and most important objective in the minds of the Kremlin's leaders is to weaken the West's military set-up in Europe. Premier Krushchev was quick to let President Kennedy decide for himself what were "defensive" or "offensive" weapons in Cuba. When Mr. Kenedy said the missiles bases were "offensive." Mr. Krushchev probably clapped his hands with glee. For didn't this negate all the talk about the defensive nature of weapons to be used by NATO and of the establishment of missile bases in Turkey and elsewhere? Couldn't Moscow simply declare now that the President of the United States in dealing with the same kind of missile bases in Cuba, had said they could be used for "offensive" warfare?

Mr. Krushchev was described as having "retreated," and the President was credited with a big "victory" when the Soviets withdrew their missiles from Cuba. But the Soviet propaganda machine broadcast over the air waves of the world that the Moscow government had really made a big concession for "peace and co-existence" and now, in a conciliatory spirit, was calling on the rest of the world to do likewise.

Too many persons have concentrated their thinking on the idea that the Soviets have wanted nuclear war and nothing else. Actually, the Russians, ever since their 1817 revolution, have assiduously tried to avoid any major war. They even appeased Hitler for a while. They have preferred to stir up little wars, such as in Korea, in Southeast Asia, in the Middle East, and in the Congo. But significantly they have sent no Russian divisions into any of these conflicts. They keep them ready for a non-nuclear war in which their superior manpower could play a decisive part.

The Soviets, moreover, carry on their worldwide crusade for international communism wherever they can, in the hope of infiltrating governments everywhere, including Western Europe. They do not hesitate to take a step backward in one move, but then advance again in another move somewhere else on the globe, whether it be in the Middle East or in Latin America. The game is far-flung. It takes a long, long time. It's not a strategy covering a few weeks or a few months or even a few years.

The controversy over Berlin is a good example of the tactics used. This "negotiation" has been going on for four years now. It probably will go on for the rest of the decade. Similarly, the debate over inspection of bases in Cuba has only just begun. It may go on for years.

Meanwhile, the missile-threat maneuver may have more mileage in it for the Soviets. Some day they might infiltrate another Latin-American country and send some missiles there, only to give them up if a swap proves profitable on the propaganda side and concessions are obtained in Europe.

The answer to the riddle about the original sending of Soviet missiles to Cuba may not be national conferences and "summit" talks are held and the Communists demands are spelled out. Already there are hints that the West may withdraw its missiles from Turkey. Some Western diplomats are saying that the missiles there are obsolete anyway and were marked for abandonment this year, long before the Cuban crisis occurred. If that's so, maybe a gesture of compliance with the Soviet "generosity" in Cuba will be forthcoming from the West, though it is probable nothing will really satisfy the Kremlin except the disintegration of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization which has been set up as a Western defense against potential Soviet aggression.

Whether I am a member of the government or parliament or running a canteen, I will contribute my mite to the country's war effort. — V. K. Krishna Menon, ousted Indian defense minister.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Had an interesting telephone call from Frank Waters of Lomontville. He told me during the exciting days when they were building or planning the present Rondout Creek Bridge he had a contract with Terry and Tench, the contractors of the bridge to bring a seven ton boiler from the West Shore to the creek. It may sound simple but it was Jan. 30, 1920 and the temperature was 16 below zero, the Rondout Creek was frozen solid. He took a bobsleigh used for moving heavy machinery and four horses and at the West Shore freight house they helped his two men put it on the sleigh. Then they came down to John Fischer's place where they could bring it down to the frozen Rondout Creek. The boiler was to be used for blasting the stone cut on the Sleightsburgh side. They took the boiler on the four-horse bob-sleigh to the other side, and left the boiler there. He said, his records showed he received $50 for the job. I forgot to ask him how long it took to do the job. Presently I think movers charge about $10 an hour.

Frederic Snyder of 34 Lucas Avenue sent me an interesting letter, and also a Dag Hammarskjold stamp, the perfect one, which I appreciate. Mr. Snyder's letter reads in part: "Greetings: A flow of compliments on your effective recovery of the article in the New York News. Alas, I must add a dramatic note. The article was written by the editor, it was not under assignment. Richard Owen, died the day before the issue. The strike caused many regular readers to assume that there would be no parts of the publication available. Therefore the local reading was limited, hence your review has added merit."

Mr. Snyder continues: "Your truly constructive suggestion that the hidden history in the mystery houses, ought to be revealed, adds a deft touch to this Dicks Castle illumination. May I add that the New York News sought me, I did not proffer any information to them. Perhaps one day I can provide some material, relating to other incidents. Many of my experiences outreach Hollywood proportions. I am in no commerce and no politics. I have never released any material for income or reward in any form."

Mr. Snyder's final touch pleases me very much: "The news erects over us such a vast dome, we need prompters like yours, to anchor our attention to matters at home. Thanks heartily for your gracious index to the News story."

The other day I was invited to the Wiltwyck Hose Co. at 267 Fair Street to look at a map of Ulster County, dated 1858, which was five feet by five feet. It is owned by John Haber Jr., a member of the fire department. It is printed on the map: "From actual surveys under the direction of J.H. French, Taintor-Dawson & Co., Philadelphia, Pa." There are four drawings, one in each corner. Eagle Hotel, Kingston, N. Y., when it had two entrances, before the long front porch. The Old Court House in another corner. The New Paltz Academy in another, and the Mansion House, Rondout, N. Y. as it used to be with a high stone front entrance and all the porches. The map is in colors, gives number of lots, and owners in some places, and gives detail maps in border with prominent men in that location, like of Port Ewen, Connelly. Plans are given of the towns in blocks, and buildings.

Why We Say--

GOLD COIN: The Roman warrior was a hired mercenary, rather than a man who had been drafted, or who had volunteered out of patriotism. He was paid with a Roman gold coin called "Solidus." From this term came our modern word "soldier."

Hyde Park Eyes 1,000-Pupil School

Plans are being made to build a new 1000 pupil senior high school in the Hyde Park Central School District, according to Walter G. Clifford, superintendent of schools.

Clifford also disclosed that plans are being made in the district to adjoin the present junior high and high schools buildings to accommodate between 1,250 and 1,275 junior high school pupils in the Hyde Park district.

The superintendent and Howard Warren of Clark and Warren architectural firm, Poughkeepsie, went to Albany today to meet with Dr. Albert Dotter of the Division of Buildings and Grounds, State Education Department, to review preliminary plans and to eventually get approval of all plans.

Clifford said that the district hopes to float the bond issues sometime soon after the first of 1963 and that, to date, no figure had been approximated for the bond issues to be floated.

Critic of Leading Institutions To Head House Banking Committee

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic congressman who believes too many banks are lying down on their job and the Federal Reserve System is getting out of hand will become chairman of the House Banking Committee in January.

Rep. Wright Patman will be achieving, at 69, an ambition burning since he first came to Congress in 1929 from an East Texas farm district: to head the committee that can dig into the operations of lending institutions, the Federal Reserve System and the currency, as well as draft legislation affecting them.

Builds Reputation

Patman brought to Washington with him a reputation as an economic maverick. His efforts to win a place on the committee were rebuffed for eight years—a severe setback in the seniority-bound House.

"I wasn't orthodox enough," Patman says without rancor today. "Otherwise, I would have been chairman of this committee 18 years earlier."

The retirement from Congress this year of Chairman Brent Spence, D-Ky., who at 87 was the oldest member of the House, finally cleared the way for Patman.

Owlish behind his dark-rimmed glasses, Patman smiles readily at witnesses or reporters. But he somehow gives the impression of a foxy professor of economics who likes to ask stumping questions.

Scores Bankers

His basic quarrel with the Federal Reserve System derives from his conviction that, as it now operates, private bankers have too much say and the Treasury not enough say in shaping policies that determine the national supply of money and credit.

His contention that recent policies of "the Fed" have been unduly tight has produced a running controversy with Federal Reserve Chairman William M. Martin Jr. It is enthusiastically renewed whenever Martin appears before one of the committees on which Patman serves. While waiting for the main chance, Patman has advanced to the chairmanship of the House Small Business Committee and the Joint Senate-House Economic Committee.)

As for banks in general, Patman says greed and an obsession with playing it safe have distorted the roles of too many of them.

Can Make Money

"Bankers are the only people who can manufacture money without going to the penitentiary. They are supposed to use this money to take care of the credit needs of their communities—make loans to business men, farmers, individuals on fair terms—not invest it in tax-free municipal bonds.

"I am on the side of the small banks, the medium-size banks and all other banks who are not pursuing a greedy policy.

"I am against those who would have a nation of only a few banks with branches, and those who think a few select people should have a franchise on the economy."

Greek Measurements

The entire world of the early Greeks consisted of the Mediterranean Sea and a fringe of land around its shores, so it was natural for them to think of east-west measurement as length and north - south measurement as depth since the Mediterranean is long from east to west and comparatively narrow from north to south.

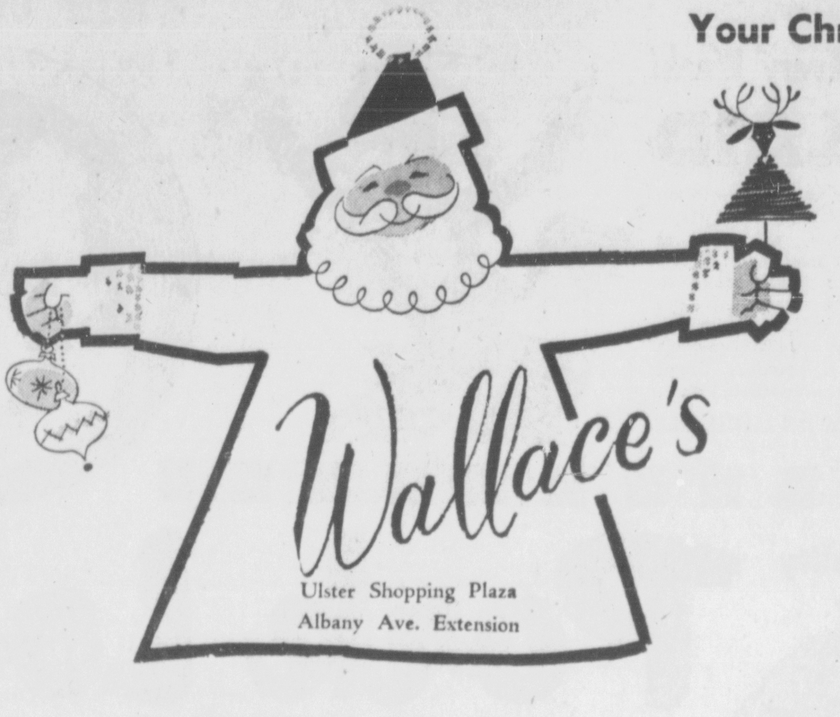

matter of fact

If you want your garden to have the sweet scent of perfume, then try an outdoor form of gardenias. This flower, known as Gardenia jasminoides, is more hardy than the gardenia of florists and is common in warmer parts of the U.S. The shrub is 6 to 8 ft. high and produces its very fragrant white flowers in midsummer. No other plant of outdoor culture is so spicy and fragrant.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After a week of turkey sandwiches, creamed turkey and turkey hash, most housewives—and their families—may well feel like eating beef this weekend.

Apparently with this thought in mind, many stores over the nation are holding sales that feature both steaks and roasts, as the flow of meat continues from ranchers trimming their herds against winter carryover.

One national chain features rib roasts at 69 cents a pound in its New York outlet, with chuck roasts pegged at 69 cents and bottom round at 89.

Southeastern markets feature chuck roasts, short ribs, rib steaks and cube steaks.

Midwest markets are strong on chuck roasts. Western and Southwester stores offer a wide variety of beef buys.

Pork is also widely featured, with loin roasts and chops the most frequent bargain item.

Broiler-fryers continue economically priced and several fish and seafood items are prices unusually low.

Dairy Supply Good

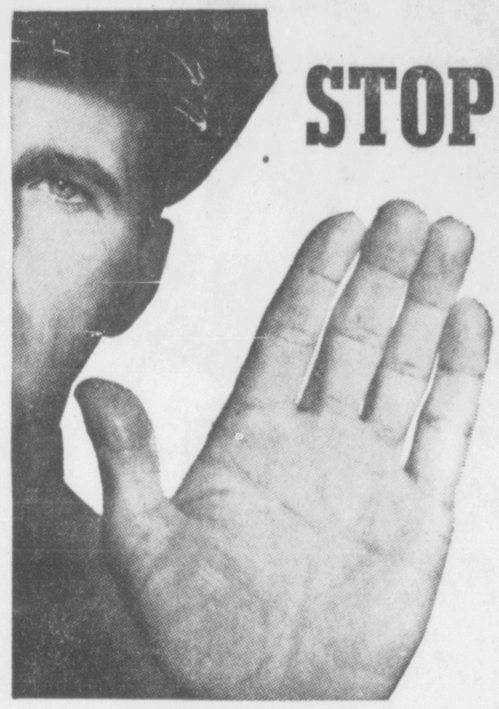

Dairy foods continue in good supply.

Among vegetables, best choices nationally include squash, potatoes, broccoli, cabbage, onions and various lettuce forms.

Regionally, other features include Texas snap green beans, brussel sprouts, eggplant, leeks, mushrooms, turnip greens, rutabagas, spinach and cauliflower.

The best fruit attractions are again apples, grapes, oranges and cranberries, but regional bargains will also be found in avocados, dried figs and dates, grapefruit, tangerines and pomegranates.

City of New York Declines To Sell Reservoir Parcel

The City of New York has decided not to sell a 60-acre parcel of its Ashokan Reservoir property to the Onteora Central Schools District, Dr. George R. Sullivan, district principal, said today.

The New York decision was transmitted to the school district by letter from Commissioner Armand D'Angelo of the New York Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electric to Trustee Raymond C. Cruthers, chairman of the Onteora Board of Education's building committee.

The compelling reason for the New York decision, Commissioner D'Angelo told Trustee Cruthers was a strong desire on the part of officials in D'Angelo's department for "maintaining the purity of the water supply in question in order to protect the best interests of the city."

Although not spelled out in the letter, the New York officials obviously felt that a new school on the property might create harmful sewage and pollution problems. The Onteora district had planned to build an 11-room elementary school on a site across the intersection of Route 375 and Route 28 as part of the new bond issue to be presented to the voters in the district next March or April.

Board Disappointed

The New York decision climaxed seven months of negotiations and came as a keen disappointment to Dr. Sullivan and members of the Board of Education. Trustee Cruthers had served as liaison between the board and the City of New York during the long negotiation, which was implemented at one point by a visitation of Board of Education and district officials to New York.

The Onteora board will not concentrate on a survey of the Groves property in West Hurley where it holds an option on several acres. The school architects —Warren and Clark—are preparing plans for an 11-room school on the West Hurley site and all details will be made available to the board as soon as possible.

D'Angelo's letter to Trustee Cruthers follows:

"This will confirm telephone conservation between Chief Engineer Clark and you in which he informed you that a complete investigation has been made of the possibilities of releasing the property, which had been requested by your organization, adjacent to the Ashokan Reservoir and that, unfortunately, the property could not be released.

"Very strong recommendations have been made by those divisions in this department responsible for maintaining the purity of the water supply that the property in question be retained in order to protect the best interests of the city.

"I regret our inability to go along with your request, since it is always the policy of this department to cooperate in such matters, as much as possible, consistent wth our obligation in furnishing the City of New York with a potable water supply. However, in this case, conditions do not permit compliance with your request."

Beck is a member of the law firm of Ewig and Beck, attorneys, of Kingston. He is treasurer of the Ulster County Bar Association and a member of its committee on state legislation. In 1961 he served as Third Judicial District chairman of the U. S. Supreme Court Admission Program.

Active Career

He is admitted to practice before all New York State Courts and before the United States Supreme Court and is an exceptionally active trial lawyer. Beck is charter president of the Ulster County Chapter, Muscular Dystrophy Association; Ulster County chairman of U.S.O.; a member of the Kiwanis Club of Kingston and chairman of its Public and Business Affairs Committee; also a member of the Catholic War Veterans, Knights of Columbus and was formerly a coach o fthe Kiwanis baseball team in the Babe Ruth League of Kingston.

Change Slated In OCS Setup

The Onteora Board of Education is expected to change the title of the chief school administrator in the Onteora Central Schools District at a special meeting tonight at 8:15 at Boiceville.

It is expected that the post of District Superintendent of Schools, held by Reginald E. Bennett until his retirement on Oct 31, will be abolished and replaced by a Superintendent of Schools.

Since no names have figured in speculation about Bennett's successor, it is expected that the present district principal, Dr. George R. Sullivan, will be appointed to the new post. There will be no additions to the present administrative staffs and the offices of principal of the high school, principal of elementary schools and director of guidance and attendance.

Other items on tonight's agenda include filing of formal notice of change in administration, a report on the City of New York reservoir property in West Hurley, approval of a school bus driver and a discussion of board policies.

Nigerian Exchange Student Visits OCS

The Onteora Central School has announced the arrival of Mr. Etuk, a Nigerian exchange student, to visit the school system on Friday.

He is sponsored by the International Rotary Society and will be accompanied to OCS by a local Rotarian. Currently, Etuk is attending the Bank Street School in New York City, majoring in education.

Upon his return to Nigeria, he plans to enter the teaching field. It is interesting to note, Onteora points out, that it is possible to become a teacher in various African countries with less education than is equivalent to the local 4-year high school program. Etuk is married and has two children. His family is in Nigeria.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Bake This Special Holiday Dessert

CANDIED apple slices cut in flower pattern adorn this very special Christmas dessert — Poinsettia apple cake.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

From friends in the state of Washington, famous for its apples, comes this Christmas variation of a classic recipe.

The poinsettias are made of candied apple slices cut in flower pattern.

POINSETTIA APPLE CAKE

(8 to 10 servings)

- 9 medium apples
- 1 1¼-oz. pkg. red cinnamon candies
- ½ teaspoon red food coloring
- 1 cup water
- 1 cup sugar
- ½ cup butter
- 1 cup fine bread or zwieback crumbs
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 2 tablespoons powdered sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Peel, quarter, core and slice apples. Make a syrup of cinnamon candies, food coloring, ½ cup of water and ½ cup sugar. Simmer 10 apple slices until Christmas-y red. Drain apple slices on waxed paper or aluminum foil. Cook remaining apples, sugar and water over low heat until tender. Put through food mill. Makes 1 quart applesauce.

Melt butter in heavy skillet over low heat. Combine crumbs, sugar and cinnamon; add to butter and toast lightly, stirring constantly. Pat 1/3 of crumb mixture into buttered 8-inch spring form pan, or other pan with removable bottom. Combine applesauce and orange peel; pour half into crumb lined pan. Add another layer of crumbs; another of applesauce; top with rest of crumbs; pat down.

Bake in a 350 degree oven for 30 minutes. Cool; remove from pan. Whip cream with powdered sugar until stiff, fold in vanilla; swirl over cake; decorate with candied apple slices in poinsettia pattern. Serve with cinnamon syrup from apple slices.

Dec. 14 Deadline For Wheat Signing

December 14 is the last day for signing up under the 1963 Wheat Stabilization Program for farms in the winter wheat area, E. M. Wood, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Ulster County Committee, has announced.

"This means that less than a month remains in which growers may file applications to take part in the 1963 winter wheat stabilization program," Wood said.

"Farmers who participate in the 1963 program will be eligible to receive special payments for voluntary diversion of a part of their allotment or base acreage from the production of wheat and devoting that acreage to a conservation use, and they will also qualify for extra price-support payments and for the regular price-support loan or purchase agreement."

Under the voluntary heat reduction program, farmers may divert from 20 to 50 per cent of their wheat allotment or base acreage, with special diversion provisions for small farms. The diverted acreage must be devoted to an approved conservation use.

Growers are cautioned to sign up for only the amount of acreage they intend to divert from 1963 production. Failure to divert the full amount of acreage signed up for would result in loss of diversion and price-support payments, as well as loss of eligibility for the regular wheat price-support loan or purchase agreement.

Croatians Attack Yugoslav Office

BAD GODESBERG, Germany (AP)—About 30 persons attacked the Yugoslavian consular mission here today, threw three bombs and ransacked the building.

First reports said at least two persons were injured.

Police said the attackers, of whom 17 are under arrest, were refugees from Croatia, now a constituent republic of Yugoslavia, who drove up to the building in two buses. Yugoslavia celebrates its national holiday today.

The attackers blew open the doors to the building with explosives, stormed inside and set off three bombs. Documents reportedly were set on fire.

The refugees reportedly came from the Cologne and Dortmund areas. They were carrying posters reading in German and Serbo-Croat: "That is the way the Berlin wall must be torn down—long live independent Croatia and undivided Germany."

Retirement Confirmed

Reports that Paul T. Winslow, general manager and treasurer of the Taconic State Park Commission, will retire Dec. 31, have been confirmed by the commission's head. He has been associated with the commission since 1926, serving first as executive secretary and then in his present capacity for many years. Winslow said his future plans are indefinite and no final determination has been made on his successor.

Report 100,000 Ready For Cuban Invasion Before Crisis Cooled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five of the Army's paratroop, infantry and tank divisions were ticketed for possible invasion of Cuba before the crisis cooled off, it was learned today.

About 100,000 Army men were involved in the preparations, including those manning antiaircraft missile batteries and support elements moved into Florida.

President Kennedy's inspection of part of the 1st Armored Division at Ft. Stewart, Ga., on Monday disclosed that part of this outfit had been shifted from Ft. Hood, Tex., to the East Coast starting Oct. 22, when the crisis was approaching a climax.

Informed sources said four other Army divisions were designated for the operation, if the decision had been made to invade.

They were identified as the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C., the 101st Airborne at Ft. Campbell, Ky., the 1st Infantry Division at Ft. Riley, Kan., and the 2nd Infantry Division at Ft. Benning, Ga.

These five divisions account for more than half of the eight-division force the Army maintains in the United States as a strategic reserve. The other eight Army divisions are in Germany, Korea, and Hawaii.

Only the 1st Armored was moved. Its more than 15,500 men were flown east from Texas in military and civilian planes, while its tanks and other heavy gear were carried by rail.

9 in Family Perish As Residence Burns

RENOVA, Pa. (AP) — Nine members of a family of 12 perished early today in a fire that destroyed their house in nearby Keating.

The fire was discovered about 1 a.m. by bear hunters.

The victims were:

Walter N. Brown, 41, his wife, Wilma, 37, and these children: Marlene, 15; Leona, 13; Daniel, 10; Susan, 8; Linda, 7; Nancy, 5, and Bradley, 4.

Two of the Browns' 10 children were spending the night with school chums: Charles Brown, 20, and Sandra, 17.

Another daughter is married and lives at another address.

The Brown house was of two-story frame construction with eight rooms. Keating, which has a population of 35, is in the remote northwestern corner of Clinton County, about 12 miles southwest of Renovo and some 40 miles northwest of Lock Haven.

John Hutchinson of Faust Valley had been camping in the area with friends while hunting bear. Hutchinson and some friends spent Wednesday evening in the village and were driving back to camp about 1 a.m. when they saw the fire.

Hutchinson said he and his companions, repelled by the heat and flames, yelled in an effort to awaken someone in the house. There was no response.

Hutchinson was quoted by investigators as telling them that he went inside the burning house, while a companion went back to the hotel to spread the alarm.

There was heat and smoke, but Hutchinson said he went through the rooms on the first floor, yelling loudly. He then went to the second floor stair landing and continued to call out loudly. Hutchinson said there was no response whatever, so he decided there was no one at home and withdrew in the face of increasing heat and smoke.

Both Brown and his son, Charles, were employed by the D. G. Wertz Coal Co. of Westport, near Keating. The elder Brown worked as a power shovel operator at a strip mining job near Westport.

Brown worked as usual at his power shovel job Wednesday.

Fire in Auto

A fire in the car of Robert Sickler, of 38 Taylor Street, Wednesday night, was reported out before arrival of firemen at that address. Units from Wiltwyck Station and the Excelsior Company answered a call at 6:36 p. m.

People in the News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Elbert N. Carvel says recent publicity about Delaware's whipping post has been damaging to Delaware and to the whole United States.

"I have gone on record before as being opposed to mandatory lashing," Carvel told a news conference at Dover. "I have always been against cruel and inhuman punishment."

Delaware is the only state which still has a whipping post. No one had been whipped over the past 10 years but the controversy was stirred Nov. 13 when Judge Stewart Lynch reinstated a sentence of 20 lashes on Franklin W. Cannon, 19, of Dover, for parole violation.

Lynch has set no date for the lashing.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and three other senators arrived at Saigon, Viet Nam, for a four-day visit to the Southeast Asian nation torn by civil war.

The group is on a fact-finding mission for President Kennedy and is expected to confer with U.S. and Vietnamese military and political leaders and visit American military installations.

Mansfield was accompanied by J. Caleb Boggs, R-Del., Clairborne Pell D-R.I. and Benjamin A. Smith, D-Mass.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer probably will meet with French President Charles de Gaulle in Paris at the beginning of next year for further talks about French-German cooperation, government sources said in Bonn. No date has been set.

Jacqueline Kennedy's leopard skin coat may be changing the foreign policies of a small African nation. Prime Minister Abdirascid Ali Scermarche of Somalia asked at a news conference in Washington if Mrs. Kennedy's recent purchase of a Somalia leopard skin coat had affected his nation's economy, replied: "The export of leopard skins is now restricted to some extent in our country. But now that I see the fashion set by the First Lady here, I will see if we can change the policy."

Plant Still Idled

MAHWAH, N.J. (AP)—Production was at a standstill for the third straight day at the huge Ford assembly plant here with neither the company nor the striking United Auto Workers making any apparent efforts to resume negotiations.

Some 4,300 workers of Local 906 of the UAW struck Tuesday over grievances concerning production standards and health and safety in the plant. Ford assembles 1,048 vehicles a day at the plant, largest of its kind in the world.

To Guarantee Delaware Enough Good Water

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Delaware River Basin Commission has agreed to guarantee the state of Delaware that if proposed dams are built on Brandywine Creek they will not affect the water flow or quality.

Brandywine Creek flows through both Pennsylvania and Delaware.

The commission Wednesday also supported a plan permitting construction of a waterworks system to supply 65 homes in Thompson, N.Y. It said that such a project wouldn't have a substantial effect on the water resources of the basin.

The meeting was attended by representatives of the four states in the compact — Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and Delaware—and by a representative of the U.S. Interior Department.

JFK's Sister Gets Unusual Sentence Over Auto Charge

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Patricia Kennedy Lawford, the President's sister and wife of Peter Lawford, is going to have quite a change of pace during the next month.

She'll visit the wrecking yard where autos smashed in traffic accidents are interred. And she'll visit children at the Kennedy Child Guidance Center in St. John's Hospital, to make a survey.

The first activity sounds like a strange choice for a Kennedy and an actor's spouse. It isn't a choice. It's a court sentence, imposed Wednesday when she pleaded guilty driving with an expired operator's license.

The clinic survey also is part of the sentence. She'll write a report on the number of children who are patients being treated for accident injuries.

There's a personal touch to the hospital chore. The center is named for her brother, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., killed in the war.

Her junkyard report is expected in two weeks, the hospital survey in 30 days.

The court decree was made by Municipal Judge W. Blair Gibbens, widely known for his unusual penalties in traffic cases. He once had a coffin brought into his court and stood tapping it as he lectured 30 motorists.

Cases in Police Court Here Today

A charge dealing with discharge of a firearm in the city lodged against Carl A. Rudolph, 46, of 464 Delaware Avenue, was dismissed in city court today.

It was charged that he had discharged a rifle at 464 Delaware Avenue on Nov. 3. Attorney Joseph M. Campbell appear for him and Ward W. Ingalsbe Jr. for the district attorney's office.

A charge of leaving the scene of an accident against Frank Kallop, 77, of 53 Green Street, was dismissed, but his license was ordered revoked and a suspended fine of $100 was imposed on a charge of driving while intoxicated. The charges date back to Sept. 10. Attorney William Curran appeared for him. The defendant had decided voluntarily to turn in his driver's license.

George VanDyke, 32, of 24 Ann Street, charged with unlawful intrusion, was sentenced to 20 days in jail, with credit for time served. A sentence asking payment of a $250 fine or the serving of 30 days in jail was suspended, and he was placed on probation. The charge was lodged against him early in the week for having been on a South Manor Avenue property without permission.

Railroads Moving To Drop 65,000

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's railroads steamed ahead today with plans to eliminate 65,000 so-called featherbed jobs as union leaders sought a way to sidetrack the drastic work cuts.

The carriers were given another green light Wednesday by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in their fight to eliminate jobs they claim are unneeded and effect a saving of more than $592 million a year.

Began In 1959

Leaders of five operating rail unions, representing the men who actually man the trains, studied the decision to map plans for the next move in the dispute which began in 1959.

Three Appeals Court judges upheld an earlier ruling in U.S. District Court that a union injunction suit to stop the carriers from effecting the rules changes did not properly state a cause for a permanent injunction.

The judges also ruled that a temporary injunction issued by U.S. District Court Judge Joseph Sam Perry in October, preventing the rules changes until the Appeals Court acted, was proper.

Charles Luna, president-elect of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said his union plans to take the case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Luna said the five unions—firemen, engineers, trainmen, conductors and switchmen—will meet Monday in Washington to decide on their next joint move.

Could Spark Crisis

The unions previously have threatened to strike if the work rule changes are instituted by the railroads. Such a strike could spark a major rail labor crisis.

However, observers in the Appeals Court pointed out that the current ruling has built-in delays which could mean more months of courtroom maneuvers.

One possible reaction in the dispute is the appointment of an emergency board by the President. Such a move by President Kennedy, under terms of the Railway Labor Act, would postpone both rule change and strike for 60 days, possibly longer.

Wednesday's opinion said evidence indicated the carriers in 1961 paid $592,062,000 in costs and wages "for unneeded employes occupying redundant positions, pay for time not worked, compensation that was not commensurate with the value of services rendered, and the cost of owning and maintaining equipment and facilities" for superfluous jobs.

The court observed that the public interest was involved. The judges also criticized the unions for threatening a walkout which could lead to a "national transportation paralysis."

Under the rules changes the jobs of 40,000 firemen who work on diesel locomotives and 25,000 train and yard workers would be lopped off.

The five brotherhoods represent 210,000-on train employes on 195 railroads.

ThreeRotaryClubs Oppose Closing Dutchess Station

Members of the Red Hook, Rhinecliff and Hyde Park Rotary Clubs have voiced strong opposition to the proposed closing of the Rhinecliff station by the New York Central Railroad.

Rotarians believe the station's service is necessary to the continued growth of the Northern Dutchess area, according to the Rev. Leonard F. Neils, president of the Red Hook club.

A public hearing has been slated by the Public Service Commission at the Rhinebeck firehouse, Dec. 13 when the petition of the railroad to close the station will be discussed.

Would Mark Source

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The method of distribution of surplus bulk food from the United States in Poland makes it appear that it comes from the Polish government, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating says.

Keating said Wednesday night that the Polish government is not telling its people that the food is a gift of the United States.

Keating is co-sponsor of legislation requiring that the source of food be plainly market on shipments.

"I intend to do something about letting the recipients of the bulk food know where it came from," he said.

Reports Underline Seriousness of Pope's Condition

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII is suffering from a stomach disorder that the Vatican said today has "provoked a rather intense anemia." Roman Catholics around the world were asked to pray for his recovery.

A Vatican communique said the anemia—a blood deficiency—resulted from an aggravation of symptoms of gastropathy, for which the 81-year-old pontiff has been for some time under necessary medical and dietary treatment."

Under Close Watch

Vatican sources said Pope John awoke "full of spirit" this morning but he was kept in bed in his apartment under the close watch of his doctors.

The Pope also has suffered for years from a prostate condition, and there had been reports surgery might be necessary.

One medical authority here said the term "gastropathy" could mean a simple stomach disorder or a serious ailment, such as an ulcer. The authority said the general term "gastropathy" would not include a prostate condition—an indication that the stomach disorder was a separate ailment.

The communique made no mention of a prostate condition.

Pope John was 81 just last Sunday. The medical authority said anemia could be serious in a man his age—but not necessarily.

Concerned About Health

Apparently Pope John himself has been concerned about his health for some time.

On Sunday, after celebrating a birthday mass, he said: "We are at the start of our 82nd year. Will we arrive at the end of it? We are not excessively concerned. Any day is a good day to be born and any day is a good day to die."

The night before his birthday, he revealed he had been reading a prayer from the Roman Catholic Office of the Dead.

Ready for Death

At another time during the past month he also spoke of his advancing age and his readiness to meet death.

Vatican sources reported that prelates here for the council were being told informally that they might have to remain in Rome after the council recesses Dec. 8.

These reports underlined the apparent seriousness of the Pope's condition. So did the very publication of the communique and its statement that Roman Catholics had an "obligation of special prayers" for the Pope's speedy recovery.

But the communique itself did not say how serious the Pope's condition was.

A Vatican communique said that "everything leads one to hope that the treatment now under way" will enable the Pope to resume his normal activity as soon as possible.

"Since last Tuesday," the communique said, "audiences have been interrupted because of the accentuation of symptoms of a gastropathy, for which the Pope has been for some time under necessary medical and dietary treatment, and which has provoked a rather intense anemia."

The communique made no mention of surgery.

Pope John became ill on Tuesday and canceled a series of afternoon audiences with prelates attending the Ecumenical Council. Vatican sources said that night he was suffering from a cold but that he planned to hold his regular Wednesday general audience.

The audience was canceled suddenly, after hundreds of persons had gathered for it. The Vatican press office then announced that the pontiff's cold had gone into influenza. Later, officials told newsmen it would be more correct to refer only to an indisposition but they did not specify the ailment.

A Vatican source said the Pope's personal physician, Prof. Antonio Gasbarrini, spent 40 minutes with the pontiff today. He had seen him for an hour Wednesday.

One report said Gasbarrini had advised the Pope he must take things easier from now on, reserving himself for such necessary religious functions as canonizations. Such restriction would curtail the frequent trips Pope John likes to take outside the Vatican, to visit churches, jails, hospitals and religious shrines.

Vote on School Parcel

Voters in the Rhinebeck Central School District today are voting on a proposition seeking authorization for the acquisition of a parcel of land comprising 16.048 acres adjoining the Traver farm as a site for a new school. If approved, the Board of Education will purchase the land at a cost not to exceed $30,000. Polls in the cafeteria of the Central school opened at 2 p. m. and will close at 9 p. m.

Named McMorran Aide

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Charles E. Walsh, Jr. of nearby Delmar, an official of the State Division of Buildings and Grounds, has been named assistant to J. Burch McMorran, state superintendent of public works.

Po'keepsie Needs 9 New Firemen And 8 Policemen

Nine additional firemen and fire alarm operators and eight additional patrolmen for the Poughkeepsie fire and police departments have been requested by Fire Chief Irving Merrick and Police Chief John L. Martin.

Chief Merrick noted that he must begin to cut the working hours of firemen on Jan. 1, 1963, and is asking for five additional firemen with starting pay of $4,800 a year and four additional alarm operators at $4,000 a year.

The fire department personnel presently totals 70 men, and the complement of the police department officers and men is about the same. The beginning pay for policemen and firemen is $4,800 a year, except alarm operators who receive $4,000 a year.

City Manager Kenneth Pearce's budget will be submitted Friday night at a meeting of the Common Council, and is expected to be submitted for study to the Council's Finance Committee.

Local Serviceman Cited for Aid at Highway Accident

Airman 2/c Robert W. Rensing, son of Mrs. Helen Rensing of Stone Ridge, stationed in England, was recently cited by Superintendent R. E. Morgan of the Bedfordshire Constabulary for his assistance at the scene of a highway mishap.

Airman Rensing, a graduate of Kingston High School, Class of 1958, is stationed at Chicksands, England.

The notice of his citation was published in the European edition of the Stars and Stripes and also The Spokesman.

Rensing was one of four U. S. servicemen cited for their assistance to victims of the car crash. He was cited for aiding the police officers in charge and helping to free the trapped driver from one of the vehicles.

In a letter of appreciation from Col. Joseph Bush, USAF, commander, to Airman Rensing, Col. Bush stated:

"I am most happy to learn that you volunteered to help in this most unfortunate accident and assisted in an able manner. I feel that, through your timely action, this incident has helped to promote Anglo-American relations, which eases our overall efforts in the host country."

Overturned Auto Cuts Water Flow, Body Is in Car

FEURA BUSH, N.Y. (AP)—Water department employes, trying to find the reason for a drop in pressure in a feeder line into Albany, discovered early today an overturned automobile in a water-filled crater. The body of a mother of six was inside.

The victim was Mrs. Genevieve Rupert, 38, wife of Henry Rupert, a farmer in South Bethlehem, an Albany suburb.

State police said they were investigating the possibility that someone else had been in the car. The rear window had been broken and washed out.

The hole, filled with water gushing from the four-foot main, was alongside a maintenace road. The right side of the roadway caved in.

State Police said they had not determined whether the car had been moving or parked when the roadway gave way.

Kennedy After

42 nuclear missiles from Cuba under partial U.S. scrutiny and Khrushchev promised a week ago that in 30 days he would take out nuclear-capable IL28 jet bombers. There are 30 or more of those aircraft in Cuba.

Important Bearing

It was indicated that Kennedy would decide as he went along how to handle the Mikoyan conference. The talk could prove to be of considerable importance, particularly in its direct bearing on future U.S.-Soviet relations over Cuba.

Presumably Mikoyan decided to come here upon instructions of Khrushchev. Since he was forced to back down in Cuba, the Soviet premier has thrown out a number of hints or comments about extending an improvement in U.S.-Soviet relations into other fields. But there have been no concrete moves.

U.S., Reds . . .

ing were Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan and First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov; Chief U.N. Delegates Valerian A. Zorin of the Soviet Union and Adlai E. Stevenson of the United States, and Chairman John J. McCloy of President Kennedy's Coordinating Committee on Cuba.

The Soviets earlier had backed off from their original proposal to replace the secretary-general by a three-man troika board. Had they pressed it, they would have had to veto Thant in the Security Council.

Shorter Bill Even

ATLANTA (AP)—Mrs. C.G. Lasseter of Atlanta owns a dollar bill which is the same width but about an inch shorter than standard size.

And she said she had it authenticated through the Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank, but has never received a satisfactory explanation of how it happened.

To Sound New Sirens At St. Remy Social

Two recently installed fire sirens will be sounded for the first time in a test Saturday 3 p. m. at Union Center Firehall by St. Remy Fire Company officials.

A social gathering with refreshments will be provided to residents of the district who attend the event.

Contractors Are state's multi-million-dollar highway program was carried out without fraud or corruption.

"We cannot and will not allow the grubby hand of greed, cynicism or indifference to smudge the record."

The superintendent joined several officials from other states who have criticized a national television program in which allegations of widespread corruption were made against the federal highway program.

Calls TV Show Biased

The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of the interstate network of highways, but each state is responsible for building its own portion.

McMorran said the television program was "biased, thoroughly unfair and damaging." He said he was outraged at the program, but, "I was also disturbed" that the commentator had an excuse for making it."

Didn't Elaborate

He did not comment further on what he had referred to as the "excuse" for the program.

At the chapter's final business session, Theodore Zoli, president of the Torrington, Conn., Construction Co., was elected president to succeed Clinton R. Holmes of Orchard Park.

Richard E. Forrestel of Akron, N.Y., was elected vice president, and Stephen A. Scullen of Waterford and Eugene D. Hallock Jr., of Albany were re-elected secretary-treasurer and assistant treasurer, respectively.

The chapter represents more than 200 highway contractors with offices in the state or who do work in the state. Approximately 700 persons attended the three-day meeting which ended Wednesday night.

Aerospace Strike

to any form of compulsory unionism.

The machinists said they would accept no contract until a union shop election was held. President Thomas McNett of Machinists' District 727 said Wednesday that "when the (Taft-Hartley) injunction is invoked we will make every effort to obtain the type of contract that we sought in our prolonged negotiations and, if unable to obtain it, we will strike again."

Welcomes Use of Law

Lockheed Vice President John Canaday said the company would "welcome use of Taft-Hartley."

If a Taft-Hartley injunction is issued, Lockheed's latest contract offer could be submitted to a compulsory vote of workers in the bargaining unit represented by the machinists. Both union and non-union workers would vote.

Lockheed called for such a vote last Saturday, when it submitted an offer providing for wage increases of about 25 cents hourly, spread over three years. Average pay under the old contract was $2.95 an hour.

In California, the strike affects Lockheed-California Co. plants at Burbank and Palmdale, and Lockheed Missile & Space Co. facilities at Sunnyvale, Van Nuys and the Missile Test Center at Vandenberg Air Force Base.

Also affected are the Cape Canaveral Missile Test Center in Florida, and Lockheed Tracking Station at Honolulu. At Cape Canaveral, only the Polaris missile project, among dozens of missile-space programs, appeared to be seriously affected by the walkout.

State Is Facing

full cooperation of area residents.

Edinger said the condition is undoubtedly something that had occured previously, but it now is aggravated by more people and more industrial plants in the Hudson and Rondout Valley such as the cement and light weight aggregate plants and also by the large number of heating systems in service in the homes.

Edinger urged area residents to try to build up as little air pollution as possible for the next few days. He said all forms of open burning should be curtailed in the county immediately.

To Continue 209

some time. Single-lane sections have been opened to traffic pending completion of the roads at full width.

A bridge at Hurley bringing the old alignment of Route 209 over a new section built on the road bed of the former O & W Railroad, is in use.

The bypass was due for completion this month, but the contractor was unable to keep on construction schedule because of steel shipment delays earlier in the year.

need the SS-1 form from Dec. 3 through the license expiration date providing the same registrant is registering the same car for 1963.

The careful reading of all instructions on the renewal application and the answereing of every question is urged.

School Entered

Local police were notified late Wednesday night that School No. 2, West Chestnut Street, had been entered and ransacked. Investigation revealed nothing of value missing. Entrance was gained through the breaking of a lock on a door near a fire escape.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The five-week rise of the stock market stumbled into a roadblock today as prices wavered in a mixed pattern.

The trading pace remained active and in the first two hours was close to Wednesday, which turned out to be the busiest day in five weeks.

However, a great majority of price changes were limited to under a point this afternoon. The market opened uncertain and then had an irregular tone.

Rails were among the better performers with many gaining fractions of a point.

Board to Ask . . .

spring or be delayed a full year.

4) Fire protection must be improved throughout the city since it is now termed "deficient" by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Cleaning and cement-lining of old mains, and installation of new mains, should remedy this situation.

No Aid in Future

5) Inquiries have revealed that the water department cannot expect federal or state aid for the water supply improvements now, or in the foreseeable future.

6) The dependability of the water supply, in terms of quantity, quality and fire protection, are essential to the health and welfare of the present inhabitants and to the future growth of the City. To secure such dependability, the recommended improvements are now necessary.

Regarding rates, the commissioners reiterated that no increase in water rates is anticipated within the next few years, unless required by some presently unforeseen emergency. (But, it was pointed out, commercial fire insurance rates will almost certainly go up if no improvements are made).

Benefits to City

Certain of the proposed projects will benefit the city as a whole, such as:

a) enlargement of storage at Cooper Lake Reservoir to insure an adequate water supply at times of drought;

b) replacement of antiquated water treatment equipment at the 65 year old filter plant; and

c) cleaning and cement-lining of large conduits in Foxhall Avenue and Broadway.

For Fire Protection

Other projects will be of more specific benefit. Work in the distribution system will improve fire protection to every City ward, as for example: work in Main Street and Fair Street for Ward 1; in Foxhall Avenue for War 2; in Farrelly and Lincoln Streets for Ward 3; in First and Second Avenues for Ward 4; in Delaware Avenue and Crane Street for Ward 5; in Broadway for Ward 6; in Hone and Abeel Streets for Ward 7; in Pierpont Street for Ward 8; in Broadway for Ward 9; in Liberty Street for Ward 10; in Wall Street for Ward 11; in Merritt and Fairview Avenues for Ward 12; and in Abeel Street for Ward 13.

Can't Split Up Program

The suggestion was also made that some of the work be deferred, or done in stages. To this the board replied that this possibility has been investigated; however, not only are all the improvements necessary at the earliest possible time, but considerably higher financing costs would result if the work was to be split up or delayed. Under its present program the board finds that planning and construction must extend two or three years even if expedited. A financing plan is being arranged to most economically suit this program.

The commissioners were unanimous in stressing the urgency of their program, and in requesting council approval at the earliest possible date. It was hoped that the additional time for study, and the additional information supplied by the board, would now permit an affirmative action by the council.

The board, in asking the committee to meet with it, said it sought to obtain the "council's point of view regarding the bond issue."

Churchill to Have

World War II, the one he did so much toward winning."

Yet on other recent occasions—when he was enjoying a good day—he not only discussed World War II but the present state of the world as well with clarity and wisdom.

A birthday dinner is planned for Friday, but it'll be a small one.

Mme. Maria Floris, who for 21 successive years has baked a cake for Sir Winston, will do it again.

A professional baker, she plans a light fruit cake.

Her cakes are usually saturated with brandy—one of Sir Winston's favorite drinks.

At 88, he's still the unpredictable Churchill.

In 1960 and this year, he suffered serious falls.

With each mishap, he broke a bone.

When people all but gave up hope for him, he made great rallies, rose from his injuries and got well.

They were for violations of the former six-ton weight limit, and some were for the overloading of trucks, which have moved over streets in other areas of the city.

It's Hard to Invest for High Income, Low Risk

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q— "My father has sold his farm and will have $60,000 to invest to satisfy income requirements of $3,000 annually. He would appreciate advice on a suitable investment program. Could you suggest some good income stocks with moderate growth prospects?" E.A.

A) Since the basic trend of the stock market is by no means clear, I believe your father should invest no more than half his funds in common stocks at present. The balance should be kept in some form of cash reserves, and I suggest $10,000 in a savings account and $20,000 temporarily in U. S. Treasury 4's of 1972 which sell on a 3.94 basis.

The balance I would invest in Standard Oil of New Jersey, General Motors, Philip Morris, Maytag and Allied Stores. These stocks would provide him with an average yield above 5 per cent, which he must shoot for to realize an income of $3,000.

Q) "I am 55 years of age without dependents. My monthly income is $700. In addition I have $10,000 in a savings account, $15,000 with a life insurance company drawing interest, and $10,000 in a checking account which should be invested. I know nothing about investing. Would you advise tax-exempt bonds?" J.G.

A(You sem to be in a very comfortable position, and I congratulate you. For a person like yourself—without any knowledge of securities and in a relatively high income tax bracket — I believe tax-exempts are a very sound investment.

I'm guessing that you are close to the 30 per cent tax bracket, in which case your taxable equivalent yield on many municipals is considerably more than you can expect from conservative common stocks. I suggest that you buy $5,000 City of New York 3's due 1980 selling at about 98½, and $5,000 San Francisco Housing Authority 2 3/8's of 1986 on a 3.10 basis.

Algeria Outlaws Communist Party

ALGIERS (AP)—The Algerian government has banned the Communist party.

Information Minister Mohamed Hadj Hamou told newsmen Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's government decided on the ban several days ago. He gave no further details.

Wednesday night the Arab language Communist party paper Al Hourya was banned.

The information minister said it had not been decided what, if any, action would be taken against the leaders of the party. Head of the Algerian Communist party is Henri Alleg, a European.

Ben Bella has been studying with his Cabinet for several days the question of the Communist party and internal problems.

The Communist party's membership has never been published, but some unofficial estimates put the figure at about 50,000 in a country of 10 million population.

During the seven-year nationalist revolution the Communists at first did not support the rebellion, then reversed their stand, but never took an important role in the fight.

The Algerian rebel organization had close ties, however, with the Soviet Union, Communist China and other Communist countries.

Saugerties Plant Vending Machines Forced for $10

The vending machines at the Saugerties plant of Rotron Manufacturing Company Inc., were forced open during Wednesday night or early today and approximately $10 in coins taken, Kingston state police reported.

Troopers David Wachtel and George Hotaling said entry was gained by forcing a side door of the plant at Simmons Street, Barclay Heights. Cigarette and soda vending machines were forced open and change was taken.

The burglary was discovered by employes when the plant was opened this morning.

The intruders also rummaged through filing cabinets and desk drawers in their search for money, troopers said.

Three Transit Workers Die in Crane Crash

NEW YORK (AP)—Three Transit Authority workmen were killed when a 66-ton crane toppled 40 track near Coney Island. Two men perished inside the cab and the third was killed in a fall to the ground.

The crane's 60-foot boom buckled while hoisting a load of prefabricated sections of track—rails with ties already affixed—for installation on the Independent Division subway line.

Victims who died in the wreckage of the crane were George Graves, 53, of Brooklyn, and Carmine de Meo, 57, of Bellmore, N.Y. Killed in the fall was Roland C. Capuano, 41, of Brooklyn who was directing operations from a catwalk.

Carlino Notes

day was one that would establish a state commission to "study and analyze television programs," shown in the state to determine whether they contributed to the "mental and moral improvement of the audience, especially children."

It was submitted by Assemblyman Bertram F. Podell, D-Brooklyn.

Many of the bills filed Wednesday duplicated ones that were rejected last year, such as proposals for a state bonus for veterans of the Korean conflict, state income-tax deductions to cover costs of higher education and permission for businesses to operate on Sunday if their owners keep another day of the week as the sabbath.

Report on Spending

Dutchess County's Republican Committee collected $19,064.39 and spent $14,487.81 in the recent election campaign, according to the committee treasurer, Stanislaus J. Dean. The Democratic County Committee headed by Albert L. Hecht, chairman, collected $2,512 and spent $2,695 in the campaign.

State Runs Many Services In 'Capitalist' Italy Today

By EUGENE LEVIN

ROME (AP) — The citizen's breakfast included fruit marketed by the state. As he ate, he glanced through his morning newspaper, owned by a state firm.

State Makes Cars

He dressed in a suit made of cloth from a state-owned mill.

The car he drove to work was constructed in a state plant.

At the office, he used a telephone provided by a state company. He lit a state cigarette with a state match.

On his way home, he purchased gasoline at a state-owned filling station, had a drink at a state bar and dined in a state restaurant.

At home, he switched on lights using state power. He took ice from a refrigerator built by a state company. Then he settled down to watch television — with only two state-operated channels to choose from.

Next day he left on a business trip, planned by a state-controlled tourist agency. He traveled on state-owned trains, planes and ships, and stayed at a state hotel.

He was an Italian, living in "capitalist" Italy today.

Has Mixed Economy

He was not confined to using only state products. In some cases he could have turned to services and goods provided by private firms. But his choice demonstrated that Italy — more than any other Western country — has a mixed economy in which the state is actively participating in almost every phase of industrial and business activity.

Now the state is taking over another field—electric power. A bill nationalizing power is in the last stages of parliamentary consideration.

About 25 per cent of Italy's electrical output already is produced by state-controlled companies. Nationalization consolidates these companies and private industries under a single state agency.

In 1933 he set up the Instituto per la Reconstruzione Industriale (Institute for Industrial Reconstruction) as a depression emergency measure. It took over industrial stockholdings from banks, enabling the banks to shed shares that were rapidly losing value.

Has Huge Book Value

In the postwar struggle for recovery, the Institute became a way of Italian economic life, a super holding company with a book value of $2.25 billion.

Its industries are worth much more than this.

The Institute controls other holding companies. These in turn control other firms. Sometimes the Institute has 100 per cent ownership, as it does in the big Alfa Romeo automobile plant. Sometimes it doesn't.

Has Merry Ride WhileMomShops

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP) — The motor of the automobile was running and the doors were locked. Theresa Tuttle put the car into drive.

As a shocked mechanic watched, the car swung across route 5-20 and bumped into a building on the other side. Then it backed over the highway and into the service station from whence it started.

Back it went across the road, between utility poles, scraping street signs and finally banging to rest near a ditch.

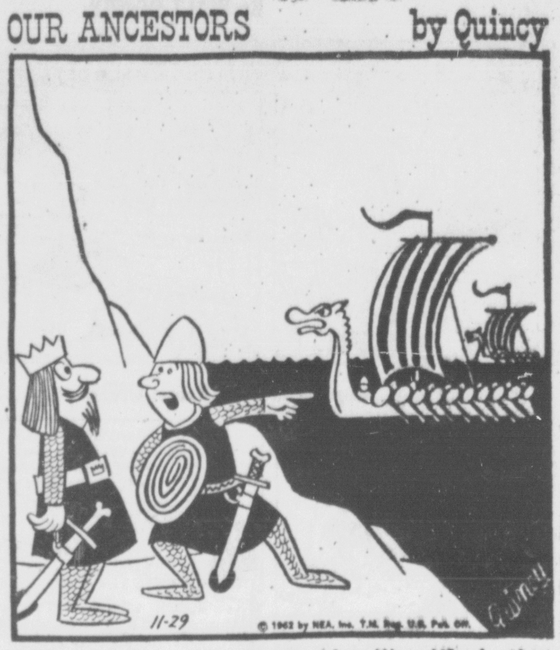

"I kept chasing it, but it was a losing battle," service station operator Hugo Otti told Mrs. Louise Tuttle when she returned from a quick shopping trip.

The car and Theresa's forehead suffered only minor scratches.

Theresa is four years old.

The varying hare gets its name from the fact that it replaces its brown summer coat by one of snow white in the winter months.

Titan Troubles On Long List of AFL Problems

NEW YORK (AP) — With the annual draft meeting scheduled in just two days, troubles, problems and headaches continued to beset American Foootball League Commissioner Joe Foss today.

It's important for Foss to create a good image of the future of the league by the time the draft meetings get under way in Dallas on Saturday because the collegians will weigh the merits of both the AFL and NFL before they jump into the pro fold. Many of them will be drafted by both leagues—the NFL draft is scheduled for next Monday in Chicago—and then the annual price battle will start.

Right now, Foss is trying to solve the following problems:

1. What to do with the New York Titans, who have been on the block for five weeks, losing money hand over fist, and in dire need of a fresh bankroll.

2. How to solve the Oakland Raiders' difficulties. The franchise has been up for sale, but negotiations to sell were suspended on Wednesday when a civic campaign was started to keep the team.

3. How to get the San Diego Chargers on an even keel. They are up for sale, but a prospective buyer has pulled out.

4. How to fight off stories that the Dallas Texans are going to be transferred. He got an assist from Texan owner Lamar Hunt Wednesday. Hunt denied he planned to shift the club.

5. What to tell both New Orleans and Kansas City, both of which are angling for franchises.

But Foss' overriding woe is the case of the Titans. For the past five weeks, the league has been footing the Titans' bill while all sorts of rumors on the sale of the club made the rounds. The deadline for the sale set by Foss passed two weeks ago.

Witnesses Differ In Testimony at Molinas Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—Did a former College of Pacific basketball player try to recruit a Utah player to shave points in basketball games?

No, says Gary Kaufman, one-time member of the College Of Pacific—now the University Of Pacific—team.

Yes, says Barry Epstein, a former Utah player.

Both testified Wednesday in the bribery trial of Jack Molinas, former Columbia University and professional star, who is charged with bribing a Bowling Green (Ohio) player to dump three games, conspiring to fix 25 other games and subornation of perjury.

Kaufman testified that Molinas attempted to get him to recruit a Utah player to shave points. The player was not identified, except that he came from Brooklyn. That also is Kaufman's home town.

Kaufman said Molinas made the proposition in Salt Lake City, Dec. 23, 1959, following a College Of Pacific game against Utah. However, Kaufman said, he never made the contact. Utah won the game, but Kaufman scored 27 points9

Epstein testified that he met Kaufman the same night before the game. Kaufman, he said, told him he could make money by be contacted by a man named after tne game. Epstein continued, and Kaufman told him he might shaving points. They met again "Joe."

Epstein identified "Joe" from a photograph as Joseph Hacken, who has been named a co-conspirator in the case.

Hacken, Epstein said, contacted him several times asking him if he knew anyone willing to shave points. Epstein said he was noncommital until the following summer when he gave Hacken a flat "no."

Cuban Exiles Dispute Ways to Oust Castro

By WARD CANNEL

SAN JUAN, P. R.—(NEA)—A sharp split has developed among Cuban anti-Castro exiles here that could, as it spreads across the Caribbean, determine the future of Cuba and of U. S. relations with Latin America.

In the face of the Russian missile backdown which has seriously diminished Fidel Castro's prestige throughout the hemisphere and now threatens his regime with extinction, exile groups from Florida to Venezuela are flexing their muscles again at the prospect of going home with an invasion.

In San Juan, hub of Caribbean exile activity, a stepped-up campaign of posters, broadcasts, meetings and fence-mending caucuses among some 25 groups and their branch offices in Miami and Caracas have all the earmarks of the feverish weeks before the fruitless Bay of Pigs invasion in April, 1961.

But working against this rising tide of invasion preparation is a slender, quiet, solitary Cuban—Manolo Ray, once Castro's Minister of Public Works and then, until the 1961 invasion exposed and exterminated it, leader of the most powerful underground inside Cuba.

It is Ray's conviction that Cuba's liberation and future are the responsibility of Cubans—both exiles and those inside Cuba who are willing to fight Castro.

The U.S., Ray says, has undertaken the responsibility of keeping the hemisphere free and should not be expected to solve Cuba's problems for the Cubans. On the other hand, Castro cannot be left in power, no matter what kind of a showcase he presents for the evils of communism.

What Ray wants to build is another powerful underground capable of resisting the Castro government.

"Within a reasonable time," Ray says, "you will see how it works. For the first time since the Bay of Pigs I am encouraged by the reports I am receiving from Cuba and from the remnants of our old organization here."

In April, 1961, when Ray joined the Revolutionary Council of exile leaders in Miami (against his better judgment but urged to do so by invasion planners), his People's Revolutionary Movement (MRP) inside Cuba was estimated at about 50,000 saboteurs, spies, recruiters and peso-per-month contributing sympathizers. They were people who had made Castro's rise to power possible and felt betrayed by him.

Leadership of this powerful network thus passed out of Ray's hands and into the machinery of the invasion plan. In return, Ray was promised that the underground would be given the first priority in the liberated government of Cuba.

Instead, Ray discovered, the invasion scheme was shot through with followers of former dictator Fulgencio Batista and other power-seeking exile groups while Ray's MRP underground was not only bypassed but actually yielded up to death and capture when the invasion began.

"Betrayed and discredited among my people," Ray says, "I vowed not to work either with a council of leaders or an invasion organization led by outsiders. I left Miami as soon as I could."

For the past year Ray has been using his training as an engineer with the Puerto Rico Planning Board in the development of low-cost housing. At the same time, he has been using his patience and leadership to rebuild an underground inside Cuba.

The new organization is called "Jure"—an acronym for Junta Revolucionaria and a Spanish word for "oath."

Within the past months it has concentrated on establishing a network of radio contacts and canvassing Cuba with organizers who have successfully landed and traveled the country with underground help. The first report:

Despite strict military government, people are willing to work for liberation with explosives and arms.

Castro can no longer be certain of unswerving allegiance among his militia.

A considerable cadre of exiles has come to Ray's support.

It is more than a surprise to this reporter to learn that few exile groups doubt Ray's claims and reports.

It is no surprise at all that only a very few support him.

One leader of the Puerto Rican Unity Committee of 21 exile organizations says matter-of-factly: "Oh, he'll come around to joining when the fighting starts."

Ray's real outside support comes instead from the political groups in Latin America that the U. S. needs in order to secure hemispheric peace and growth—the social democrats and land reformers of the moderate left.

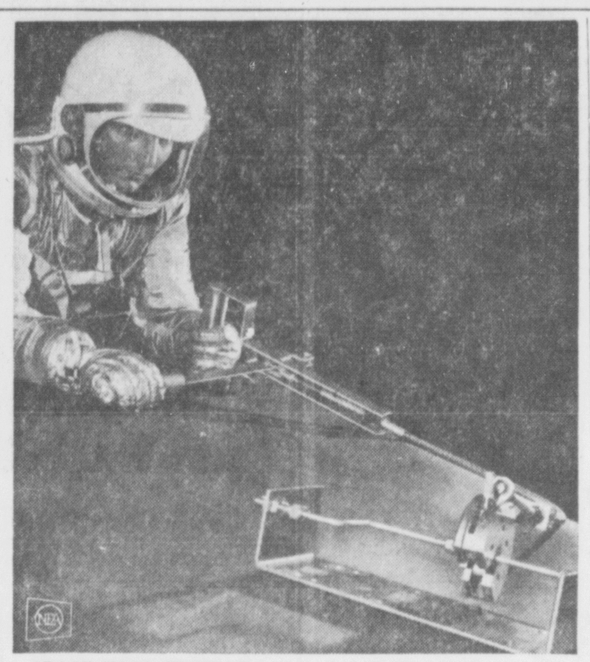

In the Dominican Republic, for example, where the first free elections campaign in the memory of the land is now underway, solution of the "Cuban Problem" is a major political issue.

Venezuelans, Costa Ricans, Puerto Ricans and Panamanians are also watching the end of the Castro era with avid interest. "Will it be an invasion followed by a military government?" is the question one hears asked by the liberal left over and over.

Even the moderate conservatives in the Caribbean admit that many of Castro's reforms will have to remain after Castro goes if the hemispere's goal is stability and evolution, rather than a continued tradition of coup, force, and insurrection.

Only one kind of invasion is even remotely tolerable to these hemispheric watchers—the distinctly unlikely unified action of the Organization of American States.

The extreme and doctrinaire left in the Caribbean, which has lost considerable status following the U. S. blockade-without-military-action policy, is convincing no one of Yanqui Imperialismo these days. If Castro fell before an invasion, of course, it might be a different story.

SPACE TOOL TEST—Engineer Ray Smith checks one of the new "space tools" in Stamford, Conn., for use of spacemen to make repairs to their spaceships while en route to the moon. The tools are operated with both hands and are designed to overcome the problems created by zero gravity and a frictionless state that could easily cause an astronaut using ordinary tools to turn himself or change the direction of the spaceship instead of only turning a nut.

Chief of MCA Expresses Faith in Movie Industry

EDITOR'S NOTE — The man many in Hollywood hope will lead the local movie industry out of the doldrums and upward to new heights is a retiring, little-known executive named Lew Wasserman. Columnist Bob Thomas, in two articles starting today, describes the man and his plans.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The boss of the show business giant many expect to grow into a colossus operates from an office no bigger than the bedroom of a housing-tract home.

He sits behind a small desk with a view of a studio wall and a parking space. His name does not appear on the office door, but it is known and respected by show people everywhere — Lew Wasserman.

Desk Devoid of Papers

Tall, gentle-spoken and dressed in eternal black, Wasserman is the president of MCA, once the commanding leader of the agency business.

Now, with an assist from the Justice Department, MCA has shed its agency wing for bigger game. It has fashioned a combine that includes: Universal Pictures, highly successful producer of feature films; Revue Productions, leading maker of television films; Decca Records, long important in the recording industry.

As head man of the entire operation, Wasserman explained his duties: "I'm a paper-pusher."

When I remarked that his desk was devoid of paper, he replied: "Oh, I've already pushed all the papers." It was 9 a.m. and he was well into his work day.

Pausing for a rare interview, Wasserman expressed his faith in the movie business.

"History has shown that entertainment mediums go through tough periods when a new medium is introduced. When the movies became popular, many people said it was the end of live entertainment. But it has survived.

Sees Hollywood as Capital

"Radio was supposed to have killed the record business, but it is doing better than ever. Television looked like the death of radio. But the radio stations have gone through a change of operation, and I saw recently that two local stations sold for more than $10 million apiece.

"The movie businesss has been adjusting to the changes that were brought by the challenge of television. We have had to change our methods of production and of exhibition."

Wasserman foresees the movie industry catching up with population growth, which it has lagged behind in postwar years. He also figures Hollywood to maintain its historical position as world film leader.

"Foreign competition in movies is no different from that faced by any other American industry," he remarked.

$25-Million Investment

"The base of our operation will be right here at the studio," he said. "It is much easier to control costs here. It's not merely the production costs that can get out of hand overseas; it's the per diem. When you take a hundred people to a location and have to pay expenses of $50 to $75 a day, seven days a week, for each of them, it can kill you.

"I believe in the big-studio operation. We've already spent $10 million to improve this lot and will spend $15 million more. That's a $25-million investment that the big studio will last. It had better."

Latin Races

"Latin races," in the modern sense, designates the people of any country whose culture and language are descended from the Latin, such as the French, Italian, Spanish, etc. Peoples south of the Rio Grande are spoken of collectively as Latin Americans for the same reason.

Dutchess College Receives Gift of Office Machine

Marine Midland National Bank of Southeastern New York has given Dutchess Community College a $1700 Burroughs bookkeeping machine for use in the college accounting department, John R. Evans, bank president, made known today.

"The equipment will be used by students of machine accounting and will be a most welcome addition to our new accounting laboratory," Dr. James F. Hall, Community College president said in accepting the gift.

Under State University of New York policy, the gift of capital equipment from the Marine Midland Bank to Dutchess Community College will result in equivalent matching funds to the college from the state university.

"We are grateful for the opportunity to assist in our community's educational system," Evans said in presenting the accounting machine to the college.

Both Finlay and Grech are active members of the National Association of Accountants — Mid-Hudson Chapter.

Exercise Needs For Individual Listed by YMCA

"Every individual is different, so his exercise needs are different. When any middle-aged, out-of-condition person decides to take exercise, he should consult his family doctor. If the man is free of organic disease, he may be permitted to start a physical fitness program available in many YMCA's. But he should start slowly and exercise regularly, increasing the work load gradually. Such a program is useful for anyone who is overweight, or who has a history in the family of vascular disease," so says Dr. Harry Morris, consulting physician, Central YMCA, Cleveland, Ohio.

The Kingston YMCA's Physical Department believes that its able for all adult males in the physical fitness program is suit- Ulster County area.

"It has been medically proven that through regular, vigorous exercise, the fat in the body is reduced and redistributed, the heart beats more slowly and gains more resting time, cholestrol level is reduced, and fatigue is eliminated," according to Steve Orozco, physical director. "Any good exercise program consists of a mixture of three activities, each contributing to the master objective of moving the body's blood supply into its innermost crevices. The activities are running, swimming, and calisthenics. Some authorities stress the idea that exercise should be fun and recommend hunting, fishing, golfing, paddleball, or handball. All authorities agree that the objective is the vigorous use of the legs."

"The YMCA believes it has the answer for the fat man, the obese man, the tired man, or the nervous man through a systematic plan of exercise. During the past year the YMCA has increased the men's physical fitness participation from an average night's class of 10 to 25 men," Orozco said.

The physical fitness class meets every Monday and Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Additional information concerning the class is available at the YMCA Building, 507 Broadway.

Rocky Promotes Carr

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller announced today the promotion of W. Reynolds Carr of Albany to the rank major general in the New York State Guard. Carr is commanding general of the guard.

The promotion is subject to confirmation by the State Senate.

Christmas Story To Be Presented At Dutch Church

Carrying on a 15-year tradition the Old Dutch Church will enact the story of St. Nicholas and his small aide, Black Peter, Dec. 5 at 6:45 p. m.

In the churchyard at the corner of Main and Wall Streets, a typical Dutch family scene will be depicted. Characters in Dutch costumes will be making preparations for the visit from St. Nicholas and the mother will tell the story of the real "Santa Claus."

Although it is customary to regard Santa Claus as a myth, historically, he was St. Nicholas, Bishop of Myra, who died in 343 AD. Our Santa Claus is but an American distortion of the old Dutch name "Sant Niklass"—or Saint Nicholas. Many lovely tales are told of this saintly Bishop, and from them have evolved the customs of hanging up the Christmas stocking, the giving of gifts at this season, and other joyous practices. His red Bishop's robe and his white beard are copied by those who imitate him at Christmas time.

For hundreds of years Saint Nicholas has been the patron saint of children, and when the early Dutch settlers first came to New Amsterdam, the image of Saint Nicholas was on the deck of their ship. The Festival of Saint Nicholas' Eve was observed in the Hudson Valley up until the end of the 19th century on the traditional Dec. 5, but the custom was eventually combined with the holy day, Dec. 25.

Fifteen years ago the Old Dutch Church revived this tradition as a community service and on Dec. 5—at approximately 6:45 p. m.—Saint Nicholas will arrive at the little Dutch house in the churchyard, and distribute candy to the throngs of waiting children. The public may attend.

Auto Tabs Go On Sale Monday

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York State motorists were reminded today they will receive tabs instead of license plates when they register their vehicles for 1963.

The tabs, which are to be fastened on the lower right corner of the rear 1962 plates, go on sale Monday.

U.S. per capita consumption of water in 1960 was 150 gallons a day.

Mid-Feb. Seen Windup of Air Traffic Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency has fixed next Feb. 21 as the target date for completion of its air traffic study in the New York-New Jersey area.

Results of the study are expected to add new fuel to the simmering battle over the site of a jetport in the area.

Aides to Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., said he had learned from the FAA that the simulation study—to be broken into three 4-week phases—began Nov. 19 at its National Aviation Facilities Experimental Center at Atlantic City, N.J.

During the first phase, future air traffic patterns expected in the Burlington County, N.J., area will be studied by FAA personnel.

The same studies then will be made for Suffolk and Orange County, N.Y., during the latter two phases of the program.

Suspend License Of Apple Buyer For Reparations

U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today that A. D. Dino of Providence, R. I., has failed to pay two reparation awards issued under the Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act. Dino's PACA license was suspended on Sept. 6 when he failed to satisfy the first reparation award.

Both orders resulted from complaints received by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service that Dino had failed to pay for apples purchased in interstate commerce. Neither complaint was answered and both reparations are still outstanding:

A sum of $206.15 due J. J. Kaley, Milton, and $812.15 due Coy's Cold Storage, Ardonia.

Dino cannot engage in business subject to the Act until all outstanding reparations are satisfied. Furthermore, he cannot be employed by another PASA licensee wtihout USDA approval.

The Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act establishes a code of good business conduct for the produce industry. As a means of enforcing that code it requires that interstate traders in fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables be licensed. The law authorizes USDA to suspend or revoke a trader's license for violating the Act.

Expects More Milk

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Agriculture Department says an increase of about 1 per cent in world milk production in 1962 is indicated for 34 countries which normally account for about 85 per cent of the world's production.

Production in those countries is expected to total about 620 billion pounds of cows milk compared with 611 billion pounds in 1961 and 597 billion in 1960.

The United States is the world's biggest producer with an estimated 126.5 billion pounds—a record—for 1962. Russia is second with 116 billion pounds.

GIVE AIRHOLES THE BRUSH-OFF!

In ordinary bread — made from dough kneaded by the ton — airholes steal flavor and speed drying out. Millbrook new Miracle-Mix has no airholes because it's baked from batter that's blended in small batches (just as you whip cream at home). Blending banishes airholes, gives Millbrook fresher taste, "Longer Bread-box Life". Try Millbrook new Miracle-Mix. It costs no more, gives you full bread nourishment, too.

Record Clothing Given in Bundle Drive by Pupils

Expressing great satisfaction over the success of the Bundle Days Drive of the Save the Children Federation, Dr. Norman Schwartz, principal of the new J. Watson Bailey Junior High School and Drive coordinator, announced today that the largest amount of clothing ever gathered to date had been donated by the children of the Kingston School District this year.

"The clothing brought in was wonderful in quality and quantity," Dr. Schwartz said, and "indicates a true feeling of responsibility on the part of our school children for others less fortunate."

According to authorities of Save the Children Federation with executive offices in Norwalk, Conn., most of the clothing collected will find its way to needy children in the back regions of the Southern Appalachian Mountains. As in previous years, the Federation will encorage a self-help type of operation rather than a direct giveaway procedure. Families will, in many cases, earn the clothing they receive by providing services for the Federation or by bringing in such items as Christmas holly for future sale.

Kingston officials expressed pride in the generous response to the Federation drive, which took place Nov. 19, 20, and 21.

Honored Pilots Reveal:

Spotted Red Planes During Surveillance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two U.S. pilots who flew surveillance missions over Cuba say they were joined in the skies by Red fighter planes but were not attacked.

They made their statements Wednesday as 25 medals were presented by high ranking Air Force and Navy officers to pilots who flew over Cuba on reconnaissance missions. Eleven more medals are to be presented.

Lt. Col. Clyde B. East, commanding officer of the 29th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron, said at Tampa, Fla., that he had spotted three types of Soviet MIG jet fighters while over Cuba.

He said one type—the MIG 21—was faster than his RF101 Voodoo reconnaissance plane, rated at more than 1,000 miles an hour. The Soviet planes, he said, "never fired on us, they just hightailed it."

East, 41, a native of Chatham, Va., who received his fourth Distinguished Flying Cross Wednesday, also said U.S. planes were fired on from the ground but "no one was hit or hurt."

In Omaha, Neb., Air Force Maj. Richard S. Heyser said he had seen Cuban planes on several occasions. Asked if they tried to intercept him, he hesitated then replid, "Not that I was aware of."

Heyser wouldn't say what kind of plane he was piloting, but he did remark that he flew so high he wasn't worried about antiaircraft fire.

Heyser, 35, is a member of the 4080th Strategic Wing of Laughlin Air Force Base, a Strategic Air Command unit which defense officials previously have said includes high flying U2 aircraft. These planes have an estimated altitude of 70,000 feet or more.

Heyser said U.S. pilots were briefed on what to look for and "fortunately we found it."

Approves $13,053 For Catskill in Slum Clearance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Urban Renewal Administration approved Wednesday a $39,650 grant to help three New York State communities plan for the future.

The agency said the money could be used for studies in Potsdam, Moravia, and the Town of Moravia, Cayuga County. The studies are expected to take two years. The New York State Department of Commerce will supervise them.

The federal grant will finance two-thirds of the cost. The remainder will come from state and local sources.

Total cost of the studies: Potsdam, $30,140; Moravia, $12,372, and town of Moravia, $10,358.

The agency also announced approval of a $13,053 grant to Catskill, N.Y., as the final payment on a $77,108 grant for work on the village's 1.7-acre Willard's Alley slum clearance project. The area, in the central business district, has been cleared of buildings and will be used for metered municipal parking.

Store Accountant Is Accused of Embezzling

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Elizabeth Grimsley, 36, an accountant for a furniture store here for about 18 months, is accused of embezzling more than $10,000 from the firm.

Mrs. Grimsley, of Plattsburgh, was charged Wednesday with first-degree grand larceny in connection with the shortage in the accounts of the Lash Furniture Co.

She waived examination on the charge, and Acting City Judge J. Byron O'Connell ordered her held for action by the January session of the Clinton County grand jury.

Florence Elgar Widely Known in Woodstock Arts

Miss Florence E. Elgar, who died in Kingston Wednesday, was well known and highly respected by a host of friends in Woodstock, where she made her home on Manor Drive for the last few years.

Both as landscape artist and craftsman, Miss Elgar divided her time between these two fields. Her paintings were in demand in galleries in Woodstock and at the former Gotham Art Galleries, 8th Street, New York and at the present Gotham Gallery, Kennebunk Port, Maine.

Peggy Elgar, as she was known to intimates, was not only a fine artist, she was also an active and conscientious citizen of the community. She was one of those rare people who was able to combine a wholehearted creative life with a wholesome and determined concern for the affairs of her community, in the field of art, politics and education.

Capacity for Friendship

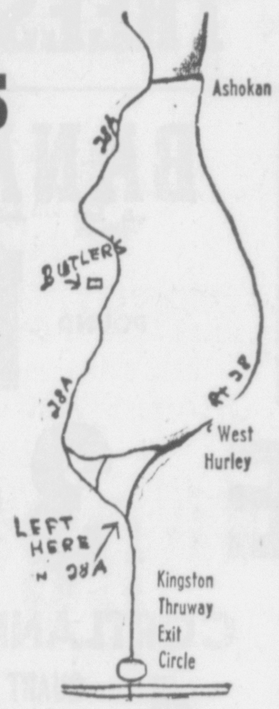

Gifted artist that she was, Peggy Elgar's real genius lay in her capacity for friendships. People many years her senior sought her companionship. Political personalities sought her advice and young people always found her a gay and entertaining companion.

Miss Elgar was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Elgar. Her mother was the former Mary Olive Everett of the Town of Olive and Kingston. Her father was a building contractor of the firm of Elgar Brothers of New York.

A graduate of the Gardner School, New York, and Mt. Ida Junior College, Newton, Mass., Miss Elgar also attended the Art Students League in New York, studying with Vincent Dumond and Robert Brackman. She did post-graduate work at Columbia University and took a secretarial course at Katherine Gibbs, New York.

She was a member of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, St. Gregory's Episcopal Church of Woodstock and the Woodstock Home Bureau. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Stephen Irimescu of South Hold, L. I., and a number of cousins.

23 Licensees Submit Records in SLA Probe

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty-three holders of liquor licenses have turned over their records for the last five years to Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan's office.

The licensees had been subpoenaed Wednesday in Hogan's investigation of reported graft and corruption in operations of the State Liquor Authority.

None Called Before Jury

None of the 23 was called before the grand jury, which is hearing witnesses in the investigation. Instead, they were questioned by three assistant district attorneys.

After leaving their records for examination, they were excused, subject to recall. Two other licensees who had been subpoenaed were excused until Friday after giving personal reasons for a delay.

No witnesses were called for today.

In a development not directly linked to the investigation, Mrs. Henrietta Brody, who holds the liquor license for a restaurant on the fringe of Greenwich Village, charged in court that the State Liquor Authority suspended her license because her husband, Joseph, had publicly complained that there was "graft and corruption" in the authority.

Blames Illegal Sales

The Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court reserved decision on Mrs. Brody's petition to have the suspension set aside.

A lawyer for the authority, Lawrence Kunin, denied that the agency ordered the suspension on Aug. 22 as a retaliation. He said the license was suspended because the restaurant had served wine to minors.

Enforcement of the suspension —for 10 days with a conditional 15 days more—has been held up pending outcome of the appeal.

Conditions Are Good

Injured in a motor vehicle accident Sunday on Route 32 about two miles north of New Paltz, two Kingston women today were reported in "good" condition at Kingston Hospital. They are Mrs. Mary Van Gaasbeck, 37, of 50 Murphy Street, and Mrs. Irez M. Pezzello, 35, of 15 Madison Avenue. They were riding in a car driven by Mrs. Pezzello when the vehicle went out of control, hit guard posts and overturned, according to state police.

During 1960, 121,845 of the 1.9 million drivers registered in Minnesota were involved in accidents.

Freak Hand Nets Strange Scores

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Freak hands produce freak results. At the Tucson regionals the scores with today's monstrosity ranged from 750 plus for East-West when East made five hearts doubled with an overtrick to 1090 plus for North and South.

The North-South plus went to Hermine Baron of Los Angeles. The bidding is shown in the box.

Hermine ruffed the second heart, drew trumps and led her queen of diamonds. West covered with the king and dummy's ace won. The ace of spades was cashed and a spade ruffed and Hermine led the nine of diamonds. West ducked, but Hermine had decided that East would have gone to five hearts with two diamonds in his hand. She finessed against the ten and claimed the balance.

The 750 plus for East-West went to San Francisco expert Don Oakie. The bidding at his table developed in such fashion that West bid five hearts and North chose to double. If South had opened his singleton spade Don would have been down one trick for what would still have been a very good score, but South opened a club.

Don ruffed in dummy, led a heart to his king, another heart back to dummy, and a spade toward his hand. North ducked. Don won with the queen, ruffed a club in dummy and led another spade. North went up with the ace and forgot to cash his ace of diamonds whereupon Don was able to ruff his last club and get rid of his losing diamond on dummy's long spade.

Webb Is Indicted For Murder of Upstate Divorcee

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—William L. Webb was under guard at the county hospital here today following his indictment on a charge of murder in the death of a divorcee from Syracuse, N.Y.

The 45-year-old Webb, who formerly lived in Syracuse, was indicted Wednesday by a San Diego County grand jury. He was ordered held without bond.

Webb was arrested in Waterloo, N.Y., Nov. 11, five days after the body of Mrs. Julia Allen, 35, was found in a closet of her home at Oceanside, Calif.

An autopsy indicated she had been strangled, a coroner said.

Webb told State Police in New York he had knocked Mrs. Allen down during an argument. When he was unable to revive her, he said, he hid the body in the closet.

He then drove Mrs. Allen's 11-year-old daughter, Michele, across the country and left her with her relatives in Syracuse.

When Webb was found in Waterloo, he was unconscious from an overdose of barbiturates. He was hospitalized in Waterloo until his return to California.

Bruce Iredale, asssistant district attorney, said Webb was hospitalized here for treatment of an infection.

NOT FRIENDLY WITH ONE HOSTESS

Q: I have just received an invitation to a party that is being given by two hostesses. One of them is a very close friend of mine but the other hostess I have not been on friendly terms with for some time. Under the circumstances, would it be proper for me to go to this party?

A: If the party is being given in the house of the hostess with whom you are not friendly, you should not go, but if it is in the house of the one with whom you are friendly, there is no reason why you may not go if you would like to.

Aunt and Uncle Give Wedding

Q: My own mother is not living and my father has recently remarried. I have been living with my aunt and uncle for the past 15 years and am very fond of them. I am going to be married soon and I feel that my aunt and uncle's names should appear on the invitations as they have looked after me since my mother's death and have been very good to me. I have been told that to do this would be an insult to my father and that the invitations should go out in his and his new wife's names. Will you please tell me what is proper?

A: Under the circumstances you describe, it is unlikely that anyone could think it an insult to your father to have the invitations go out in the names of your aunt and uncle with whom you have been living these many years. You should, of course, have your father give you away.

Substituting for Absent Card Club Member

Q: What is the accepted etiquette in regard to entertaining the members of a card club for whom one has substituted frequently? Is she obliged to entertain the group at her house?

A: She is under no obligation to entertain the group as she has actually done them the favor by substituting for the absent member.

We The Women

Men Notice Many Things

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Women claim men aren't good about noticing little things. The truth is, men don't always notice the same things women do.

The same husband who doesn't notice that his wife has made and hung new curtains in the kitchen is sure to say "Boy, something smells good; what's cooking?" if his wife is baking a cobbler or frying doughnuts.

The same husband who can tune his wife's words out without any trouble notices the minute his car starts missing or develops a squeak.

The same husband who doesn't notice that the lawn needs mowing until his wife reminds him of it certainly notices if his wife fails to sew a missing button on his shirt.

The same husband who didn't notice that the Joneses had completely done over their living room is sure to notice if Mr. Jones gets a new sports car.

The same husband who didn't notice the handsome young actor in a TV drama is sure to have noticed his pretty young leading lady.

The same husband who doesn't notice that the chair he is sitting in is a beautiful antique certainly notices that it isn't comfortable.

The same husband who has never seemed to notice the noise made by a power mower or an electric saw is sure to think the electric dishwasher made an awful racket.

It's not that men don't notice. It's just that they don't always notice what women want or expect them to.

American Paintings On Loan at Dutchess College; Nov. 30

Dr. James F. Hall, president of Dutchess Community College, today announced the opening of a loan exhibition of contemporary American paintings from the Babcock Galleries in New York City. The exhibition will run from November 30 to December 19, and will be hung in the main entrance foyer of Bowne Hall. The exhibition is open to the public and may be seen during the week from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Founded in 1852, the Babcock Galleries are the oldest and most important in continuous operation in the United States. They have handled work of such luminaries of American art as Cassatt, Chase, Davies, Eakins, Blakelock, Inness, Ryder, and Luks.

The present exhibition is a roster of work by some of America's most distinguished contemporary painters. The work of such men as Martin Friedman, George Ratkai, Harold Weston, Ralph Della Volpe, is represented. According to David Lax, Chairman of the College Art Department, the work of these painters is particularly significant because it is, "Highly individual and personal in point of view." Sixteen artists are represented.

Secretarial Group Meets

At the November dinner meeting of the Kingston - Poughkeepsie Chapter, National Secretaries Association, held in Poughkeepsie, Donald B. Miller, laboratory administration manager at IBM, spoke on "The Secretary in a Changing World."

"Secretaries, as we know them today, have been on the scene just over a century. In this time, the basic responsibilities have changed only in a small way, but the secretary has become a vital member of the management team," Miller said.

"We are now entering a new era of change. Some of the pressures for change come from electronic equipment for the office. Other pressures for change come from the increased complexity of the business world. The secretary has an important role to play in this time of change and her responsibilities will undoubtedly grow and mature as a result."

College-Community Mixed Chorus Will Give Annual Concert

The College-Community Mixed Chorus of the State University College, New Paltz, will present its annual winter concert on December 4 in the College Auditorium at 8:30 p. m., according to Robert Strothenke, Assistant Professor of Music, who is director of the chorus. The general public is invited to attend the concert free of charge.

Mrs. Arthur Kurtz will again accompany the chorus which this year numbers about 75 voices. The chorus, now in its 16th year, is composed of students, faculty and residents of New Paltz and nearby communities.

The program for the December 4 concert is as follows:

"Shall I not loud praises sing?" by Bach; "My heart doth beg you'll not forget," by di Lasso; "You defy me, beloved foe," by Giovanelli.

The second part of the concert will include "Mass in G," by Schubert, and will feature the voices of Joanne Johanson, soprano; Martin Kelley, tenor, and Kenneth Baumgartner, bass.

Part three includes "O Come, All Ye Faithful," by Reading-Baldwin; "He Is Born," arr. by Roger Wagner; "Sweet Marie and her Baby," by John Jacob Niles; "O Sanctissima," arr. by Parker-Shaw, and "Sanctus and Hosanna," by Mozart.

ASK THE DESIGNER — by gaile dugas

Dear Gaile: My mom, dad and I are planning a trip to California in December. We will probably go by train. What clothes should I take? I am 10, I am 4 feet 4. I weight 68 pounds. I have blond hair and green eyes. I wear pastel shades very well. Any help you can give me will be appreciated, very much—L.G.S.

Dear L. G. S.: You sound grown-up and poised for your age. Since you know that you look well in pastel shades, pick them in preference to deep or vivid colors in making your choice of clothes.

What is right for California in winter will be essentially right for spring and summer when you return home. Advice on what to take comes from Lois Johnson, of Cinderella. She says:

"You should have a little wool knit dress and jacket (or a knit suit) for the train. It won't wrinkle and will keep you looking neat.

"Take in addition, one dress with matching sweater. Take a velveteen dress for dinner and one really dressy party dress for festive occasions.

"Have a couple of winter cottons in dark colors. Add some skirts, blouses and co-ordinated sweaters. Take a spring coat. The color might be a clear, pale blue. Have a good time!"

Dear Gaile: I am a housewife. I am under 5 feet, but I am hippy. This winter, I must reorganize my whole wardrobe. But I don't know quite how to go at it. The only thing I want to keep is a blue wool coat. Are pants and shorts right for me? My activities center around P-TA, civic meetings and my church. We lead a fairly active social life. Please tell me what skirt lengths is right—D. P. B.

Dear D. P. B.: Advice on assembling a new winter wardrobe comes from designer Andrew Arkin, who does a whole line of petite fashions for women 5 feet and under. He says:

"The first thing I noticed in your letter is your height. You should have a wardrobe of petite dresses of mostly slim skirts if you wish to slenderize your hips.

"Never wear very full skirts and never choose large prints. Slightly eased skirts and small prints would suit you best. Pants are fine for at home wear. Shorts should be worn only in the summer at resorts, but they are definitely suitable attire for young married women.

"Your wardrobe should consist of some costume dresses with jackets that are suitable for both day and evening wear. I have just returned from Paris. The length of skirts this season just covers the knees!"

Please send your fashion problems to Gaile Dugas in care of The Freeman. While she cannot answer each letter presonally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Indian Art Work On Display at Paltz College Soon

A variety of Indian works of art will go on display at the State University College, New Paltz, on Sunday, Dec. 2 in the Library and College Union Building.

A tea at three o'clock will mark the opening of "Art of India," exhibition and will be the College Art Committee's major exhibition of the current season. Members of the Faculty Wives Association will serve refreshments, and the general public is invited to attend free of charge.

Also featured at the opening tea will be an illustrated talk on the exhibition by Dr. Hugo Munsterberg, professor of Art History at the college, and a recital of Indian music performed on the Saringi by Mohan Samant, contemporary Indian painter and musician.

More than 90 examples of Indian painting and sculpture and crafts have been gathered from a dozen sources, including the outstanding collection of Indian bronzes belonging to Professor and Mrs. Samuel Eilenberg of New York City. Other lenders are Asia Society, Inc., Heeramaneck Galleries, Meltzer Gallery, Frank Caro, Inc., William H. Wolff, Inc., all of New York. Several members of the local faculty and administration have also contributed works of art to the exhibition.

The exhibition, which also includes paintings by Indian children and collotype reproductions of the paintings of Rabindranath Tagore, will continue until December 19.

Be Slow to Accuse

By KATHY PETERSON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Kathy: We have a problem with a teacher and a "teacher's pet." She's always apple polishing, and gets the best marks by doing it. The people who just sit in class and do their work don't get the marks they deserve. Things are so obviously unfair, but we can't do anything about it. If we complain we're afraid we'll fail. What should we do?—Gypped.

Teachers are people and people are human. You or any of your friends could wind up in the profession. Think about things more carefully.

Any leader is expected to be a little more perfect than those he directs. Teachers, like clergymen, are pretty severely criticized as soon as they fall short of the ideal.

If a teacher gives a student extra attention, it's usually because he's at one end of the scale or the other. He could be a hard worker, or the very poor student who needs and gratefully accepts help. I've seen situations in which a "teacher's pet" was resented, but never one in which a student received an "A" for inferior work. That would be unusual.

If students receive poor marks for good work, they should have evidence in the form of tests and homework. Give the teacher a chance to explain how he arrived at your grade.

Dr. O. Lincoln Igou Will Be Panelist at State Music Meeting

Dr. O. Lincoln Igou, professor of Humanities at the State Universities College, New Paltz, will be one of the panelists at a meeting of the New York State School Music Association Directors Conference at the Concord Hotel, Kiamesha Lake on December 3.

The subject of the panel discussion will be "Humanities in the High School." A member of the New Paltz faculty since 1946, Dr. Igou has been director of the New Paltz College Community Orchestra and has been group conductor of several symphony orchestras. During the past summer he was the recipient of a Fulbright award and was one of 20 college and university professors who participated in an Institute on Civilization.

Benjamin Karp, professor of Art at the State University College, New Paltz, recently presented an illustrated lecture to the Albany Artists Group at the Women's Club in Albany. The subject of the talk was "Understanding Modern Art."

College Band Will Give December 7 Concert; Dr. Landau

The program of the College Band concert of Friday, December 1, will include everything from Hansel and Gretel to Finlandia, according to Dr. Victor Landau, Professor of Music at the State University College in New Paltz and director of the band.

The concert will take place at 8:30 p. m. in the College Auditorium. There will be no charge for admission.

The works referred to above are the Prayer and Dream Pantomine from Hansel and Gretel, by Humperdinck; and the popular tone poem of Jean Sibelius, "Findlandia." Also on the program will be the Lustpiel Overture of Keler-Bela, the Bach aria, Sheep May Safely Graze, the Suite No. 1 in E flat by Gustav Holst, Ravel's Pavane for a Dead Princess and selected band marches.

Acording to Dr. Landau, this will be the kind of old-fashioned band concert which was a regular part of the American scene before the advent of radio and television. In an effort to recapture the charm of a bygone era, the Band will offer works which are attractive and readily accesible and also have artistic merit.

Eye Check Helpful

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Wilbert Carter is a free man because of an eye examination and an attorney who kept digging for evidence.

Carter, 36, a Negro, was on his way to a 40-year sentence for armed robbery when Harry F. Connick, an attorney with the Legal Aid Bureau, turned up new evidence.

Connick obtained an affidavit from an optometrist saying Carter was having his eyes examined at the time of the robbery.

Waters Down U. S. Sigh of Relief

Rusk Views Cuba as Causing Element of Caution for All

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Back to the salt mines.

For several weeks, since the Cuban crisis died down, there has been a kind of national sigh of relief and perhaps even elation in the hope now maybe things would get better because they couldn't have been much worse.

But now Secretary of State Dean Rusk has squirted some ice water on any notion that the world ought to begin getting better now. Rusk, who is usually bland and seldom says anything startling, wasn't startling in an interview televised Wednesday by CBS.

Tries to Be Practical

He tried to be practical, as he put it, and urged caution about optimism. In fact, he said, the Cuban experience has made both the West and the Communist world more cautious.

That caution has to take three directions:

1. The Russians were caught trying to slip a fast one over with their missiles in Cuba. They will be viewed with renewed suspicion no matter what they say, particularly since they lied about the missiles.

2. The missiles, among other things, gave the Russians a chance to see whether President Kennedy was tough enough to do anything about it. He was. They'll have to be cautious about testing him again.

3. The Russian retreat in Cuba, a bad place for them to get into a war, doesn't mean they'll back down somewhere else, if it's more to their liking. So the United States will have to be cautious in any future showdown.

And Rusk, in the hour-long interview, said this country has even "cautioned our friends from drawing too many conclusions from the Cuban experience."

He said: "It would be, I think, wrong to say that because this situation in Cuba came out the way it did that therefore a lot of other questions are going suddenly to take a new shape and new form in fundamental respects.

"I do think that this experience has caused an element of caution on all sides—in Moscow as well as elsewhere."

Split Could Be Real Break

One by-product of the Cuban affair — an indirect result that could not have been planned by the Kennedy administration and perhaps was not even thought of at the time—is the increasingly bad blood between the Soviets and Red China.

The latter denounced the Russians for yielding so readily to American warnings to pull their missiles out of Cuba.

The Sino-Soviet split could lead to one of the greatest breaks the West ever got: A real split between the two Communist allies. This, too, is pie-in-the-sky stuff. Rusk reduced this to practicality, too.

He acknowledged "very serious and very reaching" differences between Moscow and Peiping. But he mentioned that the differences are not on halting world revolution but only on how to bring it about.

Even on this one he said: "Let's see how the story comes out."

Hurley Lions Hear School Head on Education Trends

The trends of education were outlined Wednesday night at the dinner meeting of Hurley Lions Club at Williams Lake Hotel by Ernest Myer, principal of Hurley School.

Myer, a vice president of the local Lions said 16 years ago 76 pupils of Hurley School were taught by three teachers. Today, 18 teachers instruct 480 pupils. In addition, 10 special teachers instruct nine different extra-curricular subjects.

Myer said that one important trend which has been developing over the years, has been the emphasis placed on the individual student. This is accomplished by enriched grouping of pupils. Out of a grade with 75 pupils (three sections) about 25 of the group who show advanced qualifications are placed in a separate class and the teacher will instruct them as fast as it seems practicable.

Enriched grades in Hurley are Grades 1, 2, 3 and 5. In Grade 5 the pupils even have a small introduction to algebra, and the students do remarkably well, he said.

Myer stated that one of the problems encountered in some children, is that the child has good learning ability but doesn't use it. It is a job for the teacher and the parents to help convince this child that he or she is wasting their time unless advantage is taken of the available opportunities.

Principal Myer had only good words to speak of the teaching staff and their hours of preparation, planning and dedication to their work. Lesson plans are prepared by the teaching staff two weeks in advance of a class. One of Myer's responsibilities is to review these plans. Myer stressed that today's teachers are really teaching.

The biggest reward a teacher has is the satisfaction he or she receives in seeing a student respond to good instruction.

In concluding the program, Clarence Jansen, president of the club, presented Myer with a special Lion certificate, as the club's appreciation for his talk.

Griffin Scores 32

Ray's, Balotins Score Wins in Y Basketball

Charlie Griffin, one of the YMCA autumn league's top scorers, was in usual form Wednesday night. He swished 32 points through the hoop, but the combined heroics of Ronnie Scheffel (27) and Chick Boice (24) enabled Ray's Tackle Shop to trounce Griffin's Wiltwyck School quintet, 87-71.

Lee Roberts potted 23 points to pace Balotin's to a 59-46 victory over Byrne Chevrolet in the companion game.

Ray's pulled ahead of Wiltwyck with a 24-point second period to lead 41-32 at the half and outscored the losers, 46-39 after the intermission.

Griffin hit with 12 fields and added eight free throws. Scheffel had an 11-5 setup, with Boice hitting ten baskets and four singletons. Leo Armstead added 19 for Ray's and Eddie Parker 16 for Wiltwyck.

Roberts picked up 11 of his 23 Balotin points from the free throw line. Don Brach helped with 13 and Bob Edelman sank 11. Bill Harder's 11 paced Byrnes.

Kelso Is Named U.S. Champion For Third Year

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Mrs. Richard C. Du Pont's Kelso was named American champion for the third straight year today by the Thoroughbred Racing Association's board of selection.

In beating out Mrs. Katherine Price's Carry Back and Cain Hoy Stable's Never Bend for the No. 1 thoroughbred designation of 1962, Kelso also was selected tops in the handicap division for horses 4-years-old and up.

The announcement was made at the annual TRA meeting, and follows the selection of Never Bend as the 2-year-old champion, along with title winners in other racing divisions.

Owners of the year's champion horses will receive awards tonight at a dinner of the TRA membership which includes 46 tracks in the United States and Canada.

Kelso, a 5-year-old gelded son of Your Host-Maid Of Flight, by Count Fleet, won five of 11 races this season, and was second four times. He has earned $254,585 this year and is only $23,110 shy of becoming racing's fifth million dollar winner. Trainer Carl Hanford has Kelso at Garden State Park, where he starts Saturday in the $50,000-added Governor's Plate.

In his last start Nov. 12 in the $125,000 Washington D.C. International at Laurel, Kelso turned back bids of Beau Purple and Carry Back but was unable to withstand the late rush of France's Match 2nd, and finished second.

It required track records by Carry Back and Beau Purple to beat Kelso in three $100,000 races. Kelso was second to Carry Back in the Monmouth Handicap, and runner-up to Beau Purple in the Suburban and the Man O'War.

Army Game Plan Ready-Dietzel

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—"Our game plan is set," says Army Coach Paul Dietzel. "We'll be ready for a whale of an effort against Navy Saturday."

"The seniors are well aware they haven't beaten Navy as varsity players," Dietzel continued today.

Not only has Army lost three straight, the Cadets have won just two of the last eight, three of the past 12.

The cause—"Beat Navy" which is printed on gigantic banners down to T-shirts—is the chief reason Dietzel was hired away from Louisiana State. The air has become charged with an electric feeling of confidence about the mission for Saturday afternoon at Philadelphia Stadium against the Middies.

"We've had our game plan set for over a week," Dietzel said. "Nothing Navy says will change our thinking."

The reference was to Navy's charge, through a letter to the Eastern College Athletic Conference that Army may be using an illegal hand-off on its kickoff return play.

"We don't knowingly teach anything illegal here," Dietzel said. "Navy is just trying to upset us with psychological warfare before the game."

International, PCL Absorb Old American Association

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The International League and Pacific Coast League absorbed the old American Association and will operate as 10-team baseball leagues starting in 1963, minor league chieftain George Trautman announced today.

Under the absorption announced by Trautman, the American Association's five remaining clubs will be merged with the two other Triple A leagues.

The International, which already had eight teams, will add Indianapolis and Little Rock. The other teams in the league are Richmond, Va., Toronto, Rochester, N.Y., Atlanta, Buffalo, Columbus, Ohio, Jacksonville, Fla., and Syracuse.

The PCL, which had seven teams, will add Denver, Dallas-Fort Worth and Oklahoma City to its present group consisting of San Diego, Tacoma, Seattle, Hawaii, Portland, Ore., Spokane, and Salt Lake City.

The International twice rejected American Association proposals Wednesday to add two clubs to its roster. But the major leagues, operating through their farm directors, put the ban on the IL and forced the additions.

The major leagues will pay part of the extra travel costs involved for the two remaining, enlarged Triple A clubs.

This left just 20 Triple A teams, something which the majors desired under their plan for a vast reorganization of the minor league structure.

The American Association had been a pillar of baseball since 1902. The Association operated without a franchise change until 1952 but in recent years it has been shaky.

Mazeroski Lone Survivor

Don Hoak Third Pirate Regular to Be Traded

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)— Second baseman Bill Mazeroski became the sole infield survivor of the Pittsburgh world championship team of 1960 today following the trade of third baseman Don Hoak on the heels of the departure of first baseman Dick Stuart and shortstop Dick Groat.

The Pirates Wednesday night shipped Hoak, 34, to the Philadelphia Phillies for outfielder Ted Savage and first baseman Pancho Herrera, who was assigned to the Pirates' Columbus farm club in the International League.

Thus, within a space of 10 days, the Pirates acquired five players, all of whom figure prominently in Manager Danny Murtaugh's plans for 1963. Besides Savage, the Pittsburgh newcomers included right-handed pitchers Don Schwall and Don Cardwell, catcher Jim Pagliaroni, and infielder Julio Gotay.

Feel Satisfied

"We feel we have improved our club a great deal," said Pittsburgh General Manager Joe Brown. "I'm not saying these deals will bring us the pennant but we finished eight games behind first last season. Draw your own conclusions."

Philadelphia's Gene Mauch predicted the acquisition of Hoak would end the Phillies' third base problem.

Hoak dropped off 57 points to .241 in 121 games last season. He was the acknowledged leader of the Pirate infield for four years following his acquisition from the Cincinnati Reds.

Murtaugh said he planned to give Savage, 25, a right-handed hitter who batted .266 in 127 games last year a chance to break into the outfield, now comprised of Bob Skinner in left, Bill Virdon in Center and Roberto Clemente in right.

Murtaugh plans to give Bob Bailey, 20, the Pirates' rookie flash who received a record $175,000 bonus two years ago, a shot at third base. The rest of the infield will be comprised of Donn Clendennon, at first base; Mazeroski at second and Dick Schofield at shortstop.

AFL's Top Offensive Teams in Headon Clash

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The American Football League's two most prolific ground gainers resume their race for rushing honors in a head-to-head duel here Sunday when Buffalo meets Dallas.

The current pace-setter in ball-lugging department is Buffalo's 243-pound fullback Cookie Gilchrist. His closest rival in the rushing race is Abner Haynes, the Dallas zephyr.

Dallas needs the victory over Buffalo to clinch the Western Division championship.

The Boston Patriots and the New York Titans open the weekend AFL activities Friday night in a key game for the Pats in Boston. In addition to the Dallas-Buffalo game Sunday, Denver will be at Houston and Oakland at San Diego.

"Everything for Dad and the Lad"

SCHOLASTIC CORNER

By ED PALLADINO

It was quite a coincidence but the all-night rain preceeding the Thanksgiving Day tussle between Kingston and Newburgh and the showery weather on the day of the annual contest gives more logic to our suggestion that the classic be moved to an earlier date.

Of course, we are aware of the fact that it rained on other dates this season. However, it was early enough to postpone the contest for a couple of days. What happens if the Thanksgiving Day game is postponed until Saturday of that week or even the following Monday?

PLAYS HAVOC WITH BASKETBALL

If this were the case, then the basketball season would have to be moved back in order that the gridders who also play the hardwood sport might have their sufficient number of practice sessions. This would only add confusion on top of confusion.

Of course, if the Turkey Day classic were moved to an earlier date, then the gate receipts would decrease. Our answer to that is this. Are high school athletics played for the benefit of what gate receipts are collected or are athletics in high school played for the benefit of the students?

We could go on talking about the subject of football and Thanksgiving Day for the rest of the year. There are many suggestions that might be offered and we are interested in hearing some of them.

However, until something better is suggested, we stand on our original statement. We favor the doing away with the "traditional" Turkey Day football classic and would like to see the game played on Veterans Day. We now rest our case.

A JOB WELL DONE

A salute from this corner goes to the Kingston High "mudders" who played a flawless game at Newburgh last Thursday. The blocking was superb, the defense was excellent and the offense couldn't have been better.

As Coach Bill Burke said after the game, this HS team had the potential all season long. There were several flashes of that potential in the first two games against Suffern and Albany and in the Mont Pleasant and Newburgh tilts.

There's no doubt that the muddy field hurt the home side. Coach Rip Fornal had practiced all week on a passing game and it was useless in the wet weather However, we are of the opinion that Kingston could have won that game if it were played in the snow or on the Sahara Desert.

JUST RAMBLING AROUND

Y. A. Tittle, who was a big hit at the Saugerties High grid banquet, proved to be quite a prophet. He said the Philadelphia Eagles would be troublesome when they played the Giants, despite a 1-7 record. New York was favored by 16 points. The final score? It was 19-14 in favor of the Giants . . . John P. Wojcio of Lake Katrine is a member of the Harpur College, Binghamton, basketball squad. The squad, which had a 14-3 record last season, opens tomorrow at home against Hobart . . . Lew Faxon of Saugerties has earned a varsity letter for his participation in track and cross country at Ithaca College. He was the leading runner for the school and placed eighth in the New York College State Track and Field Assn. championships among 93 runners . . . With the grid season now history, we received the most laughs from the sports writer in Poughkeepsie who awarded Middletown three points for a safety against the Pioneers instead of the two which the rule book shows. We are still awaiting the correction of that score . . . Our basketball predictions will appear in this column next week. The football record showed two correct winners (Saugerties in the DCSL and Liberty in the UCAL). We tabbed Poughkeepsie first and Middletown second in the DUSO.

Knee Injury May Shelve Schayes

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Dolph Schayes, veteran forward for the Syracuse Nationals, has aggravated an old knee injury and may have to undergo surgery, a spokesman for the National Basketball Association team reports.

Schayes, who is playing his 15th season of professional basketball, reinjured the knee last week, the spokesman said Wednesday, and may be forced to the sidelines for a long layoff.

Dr. Mark Harwood, club physician, said that if the knee did not respond to rest and treatment, surgery might be needed.

Schayes holds the career scoring record in the NBA.

Butterflies Old Stuff for Navy's Roger Staubach

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Navy will peg its offfensive hopes against Army Saturday on a sophomore quarterback who watched last year's game from the stands with butterflies fluttering in his stomach.

Roger Staubach says the butterflies will still be there, perhaps more active than ever.

"I have them before every game," he said. "But after the first play I'm all right."

The Cincinnati, Ohio, youngster, 20, is one of the most highly rated sophomores Navy ever has taken into the service classic at Philadelphia.

But both Staubach and his coach, Wayne Hardin, have no doubt about his ability to get the job done.

Proven Performer

"Staubach probably has proven himself under fire more times than any other sophomore I've coached," Hardin said this week.

He included in that category halfback Joe Bellino, who also started the Army game as a sophomore, and went on to win the Heisman Trophy in his senior year (1960) as the nation's outstanding college football player. But Hardin said only time will tell whether Staubach will measure up to Bellino in his later stages.

Staubach, a star in high school at Cincinnati Purcell and in junior college at New Mexico Military Institute, started the season as Navy's No. 3 quarterback.

He moved ahead of senior Ron Klemick and junior Bruce Abel after Navy had lost two of its first three games, in which Staubach played only three minutes.

Ralph Smith, Council Race chairman and past president of the Kingston Trailsweepers, has been formulating plans for sanction and inter-club races for the coming season. The race program will be expanded this year to include inter-club competition within the Council Junior Program being organized by Len LeBlanc of the Monticello-Navasink Ski Club.

Upstate College Basketball Teams Tested This Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The testing time for Upstate college basketball teams begins in earnest this weekend when more than a dozen quintets, some of them likely to be powers on the national scene, make their season debuts.

Three games are scheduled for Friday, but the principal interest is focused on Saturday night games.

Saturday's main event is a double-header that pits St. Bonaventure against Southern Illinois and Canisius against Iona at Buffalo's Memorial Auditorium.

The Bonnies, traditionally a strong team, are considered to have the potential this year to grab the number-one spot in the East and perhaps to earn a top national ranking.

Coach Larry Weise has organized the St. Bonaventure attack around 6-foot-6 Miles Aiken, who will play center this season, and Fred Crawford, a 6-foot-4 junior forward.

Canisius has been troubled by training injuries but still is counting on the talents of veterans Bill O'Connor, a 6-foot-5 senior center; Tom Chester, a 6-foot-4 senior, and Pat Turtle, a senior who stands 5-11.

Niagara Opens

Another of the major teams in Western New York, Niagara, also opens its season Saturday night—taking on Scranton at home. Center Joe Maddrey and forward Kenny Glenn, both 6-foot-5, are among several returning lettermen who are giving pleasant dreams to coach Taps Gallagher. Gallagher is beginning his 29th season at Niagara.

The University of Buffalo, its team hard-hit by graduation last June, takes to the court for its first season competition Friday night against Scranton in Buffalo.

In another Saturday contest, The Big Red of Cornell, looking forward to its best season since winning the Ivy League championship in 1954, meets non-Ivy rival Colgate at Ithaca.

Cornell boasts seven returning lettermen, led by Captain Jerry Szachara.

Colgate, rebuilding under a new coach, Bob Dewey, hopes the size of its players will be an advantage. The team averages 6-foot-3, and Center John Brown, at 6-foot-6, is the strong man of the attack.

Syracuse Hopeful

In Syracuse Saturday night, Syracuse University launches a season that doesn't have to be very good to be better than last year's, when the Orange lost 22 of 24 games. The first foe is Kent State.

Here are the other games on the calendar this week for Upstate teams:

Friday — Queens, Ont. at St. Lawrence; Bloomsburg, Pa., at Rochester Tech.

Saturday—Siena at Le Moyne; Plattsburgh State at Newark State; Hobart at Harpur; Rochester at Alfred; Toronto at Buffalo; Sir George Williams at Oneonta State; Queens, Ont., at Clarkson; Ithaca at Cortland State; Potsdam State at Oswego State; Rochester Tech at Buffalo State.

Message Came Late for Case

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Everett Case, basketball coach at North Carolina State, didn't suspect that some of his players were shaving points until his team played poorly against Georgia Tech on Dec. 17, 1960.

Later, the silver-thatched coach learned some of his players had accepted money from gamblers to shave points.

Case told a Wake Superior Court jury Wednesday the Georgia Tech game, played on the State home court here, was the first time his suspicions were aroused.

He was a witnesss in the trial of Dave Goldberg, 46, and Steve Lekometros, 39, both of St. Louis, charged with multiple counts of bribery, attempted bribery, and conspiracy.

Case said he had been eager for his team to trounce Georgia Tech, since the Engineers had soundly beaten the Wolfpack earlier.

After a 10-point lead at the half, he added, things began to happen.

"There were mistakes and poor ball handling. I began to think we were getting bad calls from the officials. It was the first game I sensed anything wrong."

Cornell Names Wood 1963 Grid Captain

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Cornell quarterback Gary Wood, one of the nation's top offensive performers and a member of The Associated Press all-Ivy League team, will be captain of the 1963 Cornell football squad.

Wood, a junior from Cortland, was elected to the post Wednesday night.

Harness Racing Feud of 8 Years To End Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The breach in the internal operations of harnesss horse racing is due to be sealed Saturday when the United States Trotting Association officially welcomes members of the Harness Tracks of America back into the fold after an absence of some eight years.

George Levy, chairman of the board of Roosevelt Raceway and a leader in the revolt from the USTA, will put the official seal on the end of the long and oft-time bitter dispute. He has been invited to make the main speech at the USTA's annual dinner Saturday night.

It was Levy who led the parimutuel tracks out of membership in the USTA when the parent body of the sport failed, in his opinion, to give the raceways proper representation. Seventeen tracks formed the Harness Tracks of America with 12 forfeiting their membership in the USTA but continuing to pay a specified sum for services.

Under the plan which is expected to be approved by the USTA's board of directors Saturday morning all of the members of the HTA, except Yonkers Raceway, again will become members of the USTA. Yonkers is expected to return to membership shortly.

The plan, which has been approved by the executive board of the USTA, calls for re-districting of the country with 45 directors, 15 of whom will be elected by the race tracks. In the past the tracks often were outvoted in election by owners and trainers, who hold the preponderance of membership in the USTA.

Each track's vote will be based on purse distribution. Tracks with purses of less than $250,000 will have one vote, $250,000 to $500,000 2 votes, $500,000 to $1.5 million 4, $1.5 million to $3 million 6, $3 million to $5 million 8 and over $5 million 10.

Abbey Up Wins

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Abbey Up, driven by Del Insko, outduelled Hoot Colby in the stretch and won the $3,750 Orlando Trot by three-quarters of a length before 21,106 at Yonkers Raceway Wednesday night. Time for the mile was 2 minutes, 5 2-5 seconds. The 11-year-old son of Guy Abbey returned $8.40. Mr. Pride finished third.

Elmira Club Is Cited For Promotional Job

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The Elmira club of the Eastern League has been awarded the Larry MacPhail trophy for doing the best promotional job in minor league baseball.

Ward Goodrich, general manager of the club, received the award Wednesday night at the annual banquet of the National Association meeting here.

Previous winners of the award were Twin Falls, Idaho; Little Rock and Buffalo.

Monday Club Meets Area Social Notes

Mrs. Raymond Quackenbush presented a program on the topic, Reflection of Beauty — Past and Present, to the Monday Club when it met at her home this week. Mrs. Milton Armstrong, president, presided at the business meeting prior to the presentation.

The program, as presented by Mrs. Quackenbush, was presented in two parts and traced the development of beauty for a woman and her home through mirrors from the days of antiquity to the present. The first part portrayed the mirror as a functional looking glass and sketched its early beginning as a decorative tool. The second part illustrated how to decorate with mirrors, giving a practical and interesting way to use them in decorative scheme for the home.

Next Monday's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Herman Knaust, Stroomzeit.

Saugerties Area School Building Problems Aired

The public hearing held at the Saugerties High School on Tuesday night to discuss the problem of providing classrooms for the children in the Saugerties Central School District attracted approximately 60 people.

Many opinions were expressed by individuals present including a written recommendation from Vincent Amrod, chairman of the educational committee of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce. He suggested a plan for a 10-room elementary school in the north-west area of the district, an addition of four rooms to the Mt. Marion School, an 18-room elementary school in the village and conversion of the Main Street School to a junior high school.

Virgil Detweiler, chairman of SCOPE, urged the board to present a plan that would provide a seat and desk for every child in the district. He recommended that the site and the building project be submitted to the taxpayers as separate issues.

Albert Milliken, architect of Kingston, who was recently engaged by the board of education to work on future building plans for the district, was present and in answer to a question said that in his opinion a two-story structure could be built at a 17 per cent saving over a one story building and in addition a saving of $1000 a year could be realized on the heating costs.

In answer to a question on the approximate cost per square foot he said that a safe figure would be between $15 and $16 with the cost of a high school running to $18 per square foot.

In view of the fact that there are now 715 pupils on a part time schedule and a total of 1,400 due to go on abbreviated schedule next September, Mr. Milliken was asked how long it would take to have a school built. He said that if preliminary plans were drawn up almost immediately a school could be ready for mid-1964.

The meeting did not adhere strictly to the purpose it was called for but those present showed interest in comments relating to the school curriculum, the present bond indebtedness, how another bond issue would affect the taxpayers and some rather pertinent remarks aimed at the school board.

Nathan Aaron, speaking as a member of the Chamber of Commerce said "You board members were elected to solve the school problems. The reason for the failure of previous bond issues was that your promises to keep taxes down at the time of centralization were not kept." John Lowther, past president of the school board, replied that "no official ever promised that taxes could be reduced. The promise that was made was that centralization would be less expensive than any other plan largely because of state aid."

50 Ships Still in Seaway

MONTREAL (AP) — Traffic is flowing smoothly through the St. Lawrence Seaway as the deadline for closing the waterway for the season approaches, seaway officials report.

About 50 ships were still in the system Wednesday night, they said.

The Lake Ontario-Montreal section of the seaway closes officially at midnight Friday, but offficials have said that, if weather permits, ships could continue to pass through the system until midnight Monday while closing operations are under way.

Small Group Still Off Jobs at GE

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A small group of workers remained off their jobs at the General Electric Co. Wednesday in a continued protest against what a union official said was the company's refusal to arbitrate grievances.

The walkout has involved more than 1,200 workers since it began Tuesday. All but a handful in the heavy military electronics department returned to their jobs Wednesday.

John Stanley, business agent for local 320 of the International Union of Electrical Workers, said the walkout was a protest of GE's refusal to arbitrate grievances. Workers had staged a one-day walkout for the same reason last week.

Management contends the grievances claimed by the union no longer are subject to arbitration.

Father Lynch Dies at 76

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The Rev. Richard J. Lynch, retired pastor of St. James Roman Catholic Church in Cazenovia, Madison County, died yesterday at a Syracuse hospital after a long illness. He was 76.

Legion Members Attend Conclave

Several members of Lamouree-Hackett Post 72, American Legion and Auxiliary attended the Ulster County meeting at the Lloyd Post, 193, Highland, Monday night. Included in the group were Commander Arthur Kilborn of Post 72; Mrs. Gladys Amend, president of Unit 72, Auxiliary; Mrs. Catherine VanGaasbeek, membership chairman; Mrs. Edith Schaeffer, rehabilitation chairman for the local unit and the Ulster County Legion Auxiliary; Charles Ricketts, Edward Underhill and Jesse VanGaasbeek, members of Post 72.

The Department President and the State Commander's dinner of the American Legion and its auxiliary will be held 7 p. m. Saturday at the Sullivan-Shafer Post, New Paltz.

Auxiliary members of Lamouree-Hackett Unit will go to the Veterans Administration Hospital, Albany, Monday Dec. 3, to work in the gift shop and help select and wrap gifts for the patients to be sent to their families for Christmas.

Faces Three Charges After Auto Mishap

A 21-year-old Poughkeepsie youth was charged with three motor vehicle violations Wednesday night, after his car crashed through a fence on the property of State Senator Ernest I. Hatfield, Ruskey Lane, Town of Hyde Park.

Trooper William Urey said the driver of the car, Richard Grant, of Whittier Boulevard, Poughkeepsie, was summoned by Trooper Fred Hartung, Hyde Park, on charges of having no license, no registration and no proof of insurance.

Summonses are returnable Wednesday, Dec. 5, 7 p. m. before Town of Hyde Park Justice of the Peace John C. Diehl.

Grant was traveling east on Ruskey Lane when the vehicle went out of control and through the fence. Grant apparently escaped injury, troopers said.

India Is Rushing Troops, Envoys

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India sent more troops to the Himalayan front today and prepared to send more diplomatic teams abroad in a battle with Red China for the moral support of the nonaligned nations.

An Indian spokesman announced that in addition to two special diplomatic missions now in Africa and Asia, India will send teams to other parts of the nonaligned world as needed.

Their purpose will be to convince neutralists that India is right and cannot accept the Chinese terms for a settlement of their undeclared border war.

The Communist Chinese, at the same time were rushing their own diplomats and diplomatic messages to Rangoon, Cairo, Jakarta and Colombo to counter the Indian campaign.

British Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys unexpectedly hurried back to New Delhi for a one-hour talk with Prime Minister Nehru. Sandys had been in Pakistan talking with President Mohammed Ayub Khan, trying to allay Pakistani fears that U.S. and British arms sent to India would be used against Pakistan.

Sandys would not say what he and Nehru talked about.

In the military field all eyes will be on the Himalayas Saturday. The Chinese have promised to begin withdrawing their troops that day from substantial parts of the areas they have sized.

Some Western military observers find it hard to believe the Chinese actually will pull back.

Plan Would Hit Katanga Revenue

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. was expected to publish a new United States-Belgian plan today to sap secessionist Katanga's economic strength by shunting some of its mineral exports through a Congo port.

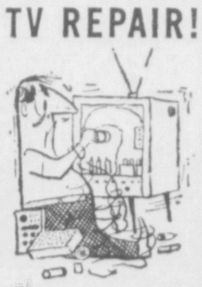

President Moise Tshombe of Katanga has upheld his independence of the Congo for the past 16 months with some $40 million a year in royalties and taxes from Union Miniere, the big mining company which has exported its ore through Angola and Northern Rhodesia. The central Congo government has been unable to touch the revenues.

The plan of the United States and Belgium, submitted to U.N. Acting Secretary-General U Thant, was reported to include the diversion of some shipments through the Congo port of Matadi where the central government could collect the taxes.

Sealing off Katanga's communications and transport through neighboring countries, as well as withdrawal of about 700 Belgian specialists manning these and other public services in Katanga, also were reported part of the plan to push Tshombe back into the Congo fold.

The termination of Katanga's secession and establishment of a financially stable Congo have been the goals for months of U.N. strategists in order that U.N. troops may eventually be withdrawn.

Local Ambulance Service Completes Fourth Year Here

Fatum's Ambulance Service last week completed its fourth year of emergency service for the city.

The emergency service began on November 14, 1958 through the combined efforts of city officials and Frank Fatum, owner-operator.

At that time Fatum purchased two ambulances equipped with oxygen and other necessary equipment from the former Schultz Ambulance service. The following summer of 1959 Fatum's Ambulance purchased the remaining equipment from Schultz giving them a total of three vehicles.

Exceeded Requirements

Although the contract with the city was only to furnish one ambulance on a 24-hour basis, there have been many occasions where two and three ambulances were used at the same time, Fatum said. "In the past four years we believe our service to be of the highest standard, trustworthy and dependable, and to our knowledge there has never been a complaint served either on us or any of the city officials."

"During this period of time we have, for the first time, given to the public the opportunity to obtain any type of oxygen which might be needed in their individual homes. This added service has enabled our doctors to release their patients sooner from the hospitals to provide rooms and beds to those in more need of them," he said.

"This has also enabled us to maintain and refill all police and fire department oxygen units on a 24-hour basis, at a minimum of expense to the city.

"In this length of time we have completed 2,750 emergency calls in the city, in which oxygen was administered in 363 cases. In addition, we have appeared whenever requested by the police and fire departments at major fires and large public gatherings.

Added New Equipment

"A year ago we put into operation a new Cadillac embulance equipped much like a hospital room with special mattresses, etc., for the comfort of our patients. We have just added a new type portable oxygen unit which enables us to take oxygen directly to the patient, wherever he or she may be.

"This unit supplies them with sufficient oxygen until they are placed in the ambulance where our installed equipment takes over. We feel this to be a big improvement, being able to give the patient immediate oxygen rather than to wait until they are in the ambulance.

"We are very happy to have given our citizens this fine service, and as long as we are in this business we want to continue giving this type service," Fatum concluded.

Comb Rubble for Money

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Treasure hunters are combing the rubble of a demolished oceanfront estate, searching for negotiable fragments of paper money in denominations up to $100.

Thus far, only one piece of usable cash has been reported found —a $5 bill.

The money was unearthed by bulldozers razing the estate of William R. Taradash. The manager of the estate, J. Robert Sandercock, said the money was probably hidden by the late Mrs. Taradash. The home was built in 1929, the year the Wall Street crash occurred.

Thousands Join For $30 Million Cultural Center

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedys and the Eisenhowers join a troupe of stars on a million-dollar promotional pageant tonight to raise money and enthusiasm for a national cultural center.

The entertainment world is contributing its talent, television its technology, and thousands of citizens their dollars.

This two-hour extravaganza—to be seen in 60 cities on closed-circuit television—is the kickoff of a drive to raise $30 million to build a capital showplace for drama, the dance and music.

Conductor Leonard Bernstein assumes the role of master of ceremonies for this "American Pageant of the Arts." Comedian Danny Kaye is cast in the role of conductor of the sedate National Symphony Orchestra.

Haunting spirituals sung by Marian Anderson, the poetry of Robert Frost and the stark drama of Eugene O'Neill portrayed by Frederic March and Florence Eldridge are only a sampling of the program.

President and Mrs. Kennedy will appear in person before a sell-out audience of 5,000, which paid $100 a plate to dine in Washington's barn-like National Guard Armory.

In Augusta, Ga., at the country club where he has spent several golfing vacations, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife, Mamie, lend their prestige to the project at a $50-a-plate dinner.

In three other cities, Los Angeles, Chicago and New York, other stars have assembled to step into the live television act.

The audience is spread across the country, gathered at college campuses, civic auditoriums, movie theaters and dining halls where they have paid $1 up to $100 to promote this cultural cause.

Gov.-Elect Starts Tour

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gov.-elect William W. Scranton is beginning a tour of active duty in the Air Force Reserves.

Scranton, a major, leaves Washington tonight and goes to Randolph Air Force Base in Texas. From there he will go to Mexico City, the Panama Canal Zone and Puerto Rico. He is due to return to the United States Dec. 7.

Voices Merger Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—A merger between the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads would enable the new line to compete more with other forms of transportation and thereby better serve the public interest, a Pennsylvania vice president has testified.

Fred Carpi, first vice president for sales of the Pennsylvania railroad told an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing Wednesday that a merger would "materially benefit not only shippers of coal over the lines of the two railroads, but also the consumers of such coal and the public in general."

The ICC has been hearing testimony on the merger proposal periodically since August.

Carpi said a combined Pennsy-Central line would be better able to compete with other forms of transportation, such as the St. Lawrence Seaway which he said has siphoned freight traffic from railroads.
